

Farm Committees Are Named For County Program

Participants In 1940 Program Name County And Community Leaders In Agriculture

Community committeemen were elected by the farmers at recent community meetings. At these meetings delegates were also elected to meet and elect county committeemen.

The following will serve as county and community committeemen for the year 1940:

County Committee

L. J. Embry, Calcis, chairman; Orin Pearson, Shelby, vice-chairman; J. A. Farley, Leeds Rt. 1, member; J. W. Roper, Wilsonville, first alternate; E. C. Burton, Calera, second alternate; A. A. Lauderdale, Columbiana, secretary; Lewis H. McCurdy, Columbiana, treasurer.

Community Committees

District I, Beats 1, 2, 3, 4, and 20—B. L. Lucas, Montevallo; W. A. James, Newala; W. E. Finley, Columbiana; Orin Pearson, Shelby, first alternate; Walker Anderson, Montevallo, second alternate.

District II, Beats 8, 9, and 11—C. T. Sims, Wilsonville; Louie B. Green, Wilsonville; W. E. Ray, Columbiana R.F.D.; J. B. Nall, Wilsonville, first alternate; J. F. McEwen, Wilsonville, second alternate.

District III, Beats 10, 15, and 16—L. J. Embry, Calcis; E. E. Wallis, Vincent; C. M. Wyatt, Vincent; C. P. Davis, Vincent, first alternate; J. H. Thompson, Vincent, second alternate.

District IV, Beats 5, 6, 7, 12, 13, 14, 17, 18, 19, 21—J. A. Farley, Leeds Rt. 1; W. L. Coats, Pelham; J. L. Crim, Siluria; R. H. Harless, Helena, first alternate; Grady Patton, Helena, second alternate.

Judge W. W. Wallace To Run For Re-election

Again this year it is Shelby County's proud privilege to present and uphold to the other counties of our judicial district—Clay and Coosa—the name of our distinguished jurist and beloved citizen, Hon. Wales W. Wallace, who offers his continued services in the position of judge of our circuit court. The official announcement of Judge Wallace is made this week, and the same will be received and supported with universal acclaim throughout Shelby County.

In the years he has administered the important judicial affairs of this circuit, Judge Wallace has made a record that is unassailable. People in his court, whether the humblest citizen, the richest capitalist, or the shrewd and scrapping lawyers—all have found him to be the kind of a judge who is typically both a sound judge of law and legal procedures and an altogether practical, understanding man.

Shelby County takes a deserved pride in Judge Wallace. We have no doubt that his fine record has likewise gained for him a high measure of esteem in the other counties of the circuit. We confidently believe that each of the counties of the circuit will deem it most fortunate for themselves that Judge Wallace is in position to keep on with his services as judge of your highest court.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

At the 11 o'clock service next Sunday morning the pastor, Rev. Mr. Davis, will speak on the subject "The Will of God and the Will of Man."

The Presbyterian Student Association meets at 7 p.m. At this hour next Sunday the pastor will begin a series of discussions on the Bible, the first of which will be "Stories of Adventure Behind the Bible."

Activities Started For Performances Of College Night

Students at Alabama College are now absorbed in preparations for the biggest event of the year—College Night—which will be held February 23 and 24. Leaders for the contending sides have been named as follows:

For the Golds, Jean Letson, leader, and Mary Diamond, assistant.

For the Purples, Emily Pratt, leader, and Ann Canon, assistant.

From now on it will be a ceaseless battle of wit, ingenuity, beauty, art and every possible contrivance to determine which side shall hold the stage with the winning performance.

The leaders and assistants "chose up" their sides last Friday and already the campus is "seething with excitement."

The College Night performances is the greatest all-student tradition and highlight of the year on the campus. It is the culmination of four weeks' creative activity by the two sides. Each side writes, composes, directs, and stages stunts, impersonations, slow songs, pep songs, and special music.

College Night is under the general supervision of the executive board and the entire student government association. The board makes and executes the general rules concerning the programs.

Judges selected by a faculty committee will rate the performances and announce the winning side at the last performance. The programs will be judged according to originality, literary quality, actual presentation, and cost of either side.

The event is widely known and has been complimented throughout the state and the south. It is accompanied by an atmosphere of rivalry, secrecy, and good sportsmanship.

This year added emphasis will fall upon the College Night scene because it will also be the occasion of Homecoming.

Larger attendance than ever before as assured. Thousands of visitors from all parts of the state will be here.

COTTON GINNING REPORT

Census report shows that 4,144 bales of cotton were ginned in Shelby County from the crop of 1939 prior to January 16, 1940, as compared with 5,592 bales ginned to January 16, 1939.

These statistics were reported by Gordon Mooney, special agent of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce.

Additional NYA Funds Available For State

Senator John H. Bankhead and Mr. Aubrey Williams of Washington, have informed Dr. John E. Bryan that an educational allocation of $50,000 has been made to the Alabama Youth Administration for expenditures during February and March, 1940, for the out of school work program.

Assignments of additional youths will be made at once in order to be effective by February 1, 1940.

This allotment will enable District One to add 530 additional youths who can be worked during February and March.

This means about a 30 per cent increase for the district for these two months.

"OUR TOWN"—Alabama Players To Present Drama Of Your Town And Mine

In Palmer Hall on February 1 and 2 the spotlight will play upon Mr. and Mrs. Citizen, their families and their friends, of our town.

In name, "Our Town" is Grover's Corners and it is in New Hampshire. In spirit, it is Montevallo, Cullman, Greensboro, Clanton. It is literally our town. Grover's Corners, N. H., seems far removed from the small towns in Alabama. Yes, it does—it is some 1,000 miles from our state to New Hampshire. But of what importance are 1,000 miles when the souls of the people in the two places are almost identical? So much like the people in Montevallo or Clanton are those in Grover's Corners that one will easily recognize persons they know in "Our Town."

Mrs. Gibbs does her own housework and so does Mrs. Webb. Doc Gibbs, a pleasant, lovable physician in his thirties, works too hard and Mrs. Gibbs worries about him practically all the time. Mr. Webb (J. H. Henning) runs the local newspaper.

Everybody loves Mr. Webb because he's nice to everybody and "one man in ten that thinks it's a privilege to push his own lawn mower."

And there are family problems, too. Mrs. Gibbs cannot make her two children, George and Rebecca, get up when they should in the morning. Mrs. Webb has the same trouble with Emily and Wally (Jimmy Henning). George has some difficulty with his school work and Emily is very bright, a fact which demands much consideration from these two young people. And Wally simply won't wash himself satisfactorily.

What picture of a small town would be satisfying without a wedding—and a funeral? "Our Town" has a wedding and a funeral—simple, poignant, philosophical. So realistic, so down-to-earth are these experiences that one can actually feel oneself at the wedding, or the funeral, of a friend.

It is tender, it is dramatic, it is stirring—and it is "Our Town."

"Passion Play" To Be Presented At The Methodist Church

Art Center Presents Sculpture Exhibit

Beginning today and continuing through February 9, the art center of Alabama College is presenting a public exhibition of a group of representative pieces of contemporary American sculpture. The exhibit, under the direction of Miss Dawn Kennedy, head of the art department, includes works of such well known American sculptors as William Zorach, Robert Laurent, Chaim Gross, and Antonio Salemme as well as many others.

This is the first opportunity in many years that Alabamians have been able to view so large a cross-section of American sculpture at one time in one place. The entire exhibit has been made possible through the cooperation of Robinson Galleries, New York. The pieces are arranged for public inspection on the second floor of Bloch Hall.

"The purpose of this exhibit," said Miss Kennedy, "is to acquaint the Alabama public with another form of home decoration—statuary. Heretofore, statuary has been limited to the three M's—museums, millionaires, and monuments."

High School Glee Clubs To Present "The Mikado"

Everyone enjoys an evening of bright music and rib-tickling comedy. You are in for just that when you see the musical comedy, "The Mikado," by Gilbert and Sullivan, which is to be presented by the High School Glee Clubs on Friday, February 9, at 8 p.m. in Palmer Hall.

"The Mikado," laid in the mythical town of Titipu in Japan, is the amusing tale of the adventures of a love-lorn swain, Nanki-Poo, who is searching for his adored Yum-Yum. He encounters many obstacles, considers suicide, and even bargains with the Lord High Executioner, offering his head in return for a month of wedded bliss. But it all turns out for the best and they live happily ever after.

That immortal team, Gilbert and Sullivan, are among the best literary and musical funsters of all time, and don't hesitate to take a sly dig at the pompousness and authoritarian attitudes of those in high places. And if you're rusty on your Gilbert and Sullivan, here are a few well-known musical bright spots: (Do you remember?) "The Flowers that Bloom in the Spring," "The Moon and I," "A Wand'ring Minstrel I," "I've Got a Little List," "My Object All Sublime," and "Tit-Willow."

The cast follows:

Yum-Yum, Peggy Davis; Nanki-Poo, Lloyd Villadsen; Ko-Ko (Lord High Executioner), Wayne Villadsen; Pooh-Bah (Lord High Everything Else), Julian Hill; Peep-Bo, Tootsie Clayton; Pitti-Sing, Mayo Baker; The Mikado, Fred Pearson; Katisha, Sara Henry Reynolds; Pish-Tush, Bobby Smith.

A chorus of thirty and a small theatre orchestra all help make the production enjoyable. The play is directed by Miss Elizabeth Utterback, music under the direction of Mrs. Josephine Waller. Student committees are working on staging, costuming, and business management.

You will be approached next week by ticket-sellers. We hope you will support this venture of the Glee Clubs and come to see "The Mikado."

Mr. Henry Clay Griffin, who attends Georgia Tech in Atlanta, spent a few days here last week after mid-term exams.

Motion Picture of Famous Drama To Be Presented With Organ And Music To Local Audience

"The Passion Play," or "The Christ," is veritably a treasure of the ages, to all Christian people, whose faith is anchored in the resurrection of Jesus Nazareth. The dramatic version, given periodically in Europe at Oberammergau and Freiburg are visited by hundreds of thousands of Christian people, from all sections of the world at enormous expense.

Produced in Europe and Palestine

The public of Montevallo is to be given the rare opportunity of seeing the world-famous "Passion Play" motion picture, based upon, and patterned after, both Freiburg and Oberammergau productions, and actually produced in Europe, the Holy Land, and Egypt, with special organ and choral music, on sound equipment, depicting many famous scenes in the life, crucifixion and resurrection of Jesus, at the Methodist Church on Monday night, February 5, at 7:30 p.m. Everybody is invited, and admission tickets are not necessary. A silver offering will be taken, to assist in paying expenses.

Unusual Spiritual Values

A very gratifying departure from the usual movie presentation in churches is the high spiritual level and atmosphere of meditation and prayer established and maintained throughout the entire program which has been one of the fundamental objectives of the "National Bureau for Religious and Educational Films," under whose management this film is being presented.

This magnificent program in motion picture and sound music is attracting immense audiences in many of the largest churches in the United States and Canada, having been exhibited in more than one thousand of the principal churches, to more than one million people, during the past two years. A capacity audience is anticipated here. The public is cordially invited and urged to be in their seats early.

Study Club Meets With Mrs. Wills

The Montevallo Study Club held its regular meeting with Mrs. E. H. Wills as hostess. Mrs. W. F. Tidwell presided at the business meeting. The parliamentarian, Mrs. Wills, gave some interesting information from Robert's "Rules of Order." The program, presented entirely by guests, was unusually interesting. A group of songs were sung by Marion Hughes, accompanied by Helen Balch, both of Alabama College.

Mrs. I. T. Sanders gave a most interesting talk, the theme of which centered around a quotation she gave, "There is nothing dramatic, nothing pathetic except in human relations." She told most vividly of experiences she had with different individuals of several nationalities as they happened to come into her life as she traveled in Europe.

Those present at the meeting were Mesdames J. F. Baker, G. P. Elliott, F. P. Givhan, W. L. Gravlee, R. P. Holcomb, E. P. Hood, W. D. Jackson, M. C. Jeter, M. P. Jeter, J. P. Kelly, W. J. Kennerly, M. L. Orr, L. C. Parnell, G. P. Rogan, W. F. Tidwell, G. T. Towery, and E. H. Wills.

REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE TO MEET WEDNESDAY

A meeting of the Republican Committee will be held Wednesday, February 7, at 1 p.m., according to Mr. George Kendrick, chairman. All Republicans are urged to be present.

BLOW HARD-EST IN SOUTH

Those Alabama farmers who put all their eggs in one basket this year—that is, relied solely on cotton—are in a poor way this fall.

Ginnings to November 1 show very clearly why there is such great distress in most counties in Alabama, especially in the southern part of the state.

Of the 67, there are only about seven counties that have ginned more cotton than last year. These are Marshall, Jackson, DeKalb, Etowah, Cherokee, Lee and Tallapoosa. Pike County ginned 14,033 against 21,477 last year.

Most of the big cotton counties in North Alabama are off somewhat in production—Madison, Cullman, Limestone, Morgan, Colbert, and Lauderdale.

But it is the smaller and poorer counties that are hardest hit. Little Clarke's crop is less than half of last year. Covington's is in about the same proportion. Dale has ginned less than 4,000 bales, against more than 11,000 in 1938.

Some of the larger counties in the lower half of the state are suffering almost proportionately with the smaller ones. Houston, usually well near the top, has ginned less than 16,000 bales against about 28,000 last year. Dallas, near the central part of the state, will make little more than 50 per cent of what it did last year.

And so the story goes.

Madison will lead the state again this year, although by not as wide a margin as in 1938. It will get right close to 40,000 bales, if it does not reach that mark.

But DeKalb is almost 5,000 bales ahead of last year, with 32,500 ginned on November 1.

Marshall, with its fine Sand Mountain farms, where the boll weevil was not so disastrous as in the valley of the river, is about 3,000 bales ahead, with close to 31,000.

Our neighbor to the east, Jackson, has spurred this fall, and has turned out 2,500 bales above last year.

Limestone and Morgan are 3,000 or 4,000 bales behind.

The shortage in the entire state on November 1 was about 275,000 bales, worth at present prices around $12,500,000, not to speak of the loss in cotton seed.

Floods in the central and southern parts, boll weevil in the northern, and a generally bad season in all sections of the state, caused the decline in the crop.

It emphasizes further the need for getting away from an absolute "cotton economy," and producing a diversified list of farm crops and products, so that in bad years something may be salvaged if cotton is off in production or in price.

In other words, diversification provides the means to reduce losses, as well as to have both food and feed in off years.—Huntsville Times.

TA EXEMPT PARASITES COST MONEY

The schools of Alabama became $355,639 richer the other day, when the president of the Alabama Power Company handed a check in that amount to the tax officials at Montgomery. The check was in payment of the company's hydro-electric kilowatt-hour tax, and all of it, under the law, will be devoted to educational purposes. The state's 67 counties will participate. This payment is but part of the company's total taxes for 1939, which are estimated at over $3,000,000. The company is the state's largest single taxpayer.

This should cause some hard-pressed taxpayers to do some thinking. Alabama's neighboring state of Tennessee is today up to its neck in power socialism, as the TVA now has a virtual monopoly of the Tennessee electric business. The TVA does not pay the regular taxes assessed against every other citizen and in industry in the state. It does certain fixed sums "in lieu of taxes" which are insignificant when compared to the taxes paid by the private companies. The municipal systems which use TVA power are also in the parasitic tax-exempt class. Today the people of Tennessee must make up the millions in taxes formerly paid by the private utilities there. In any other state where private industry is socialized, the remaining taxpayers, already overburdened for the most part, must do the same thing.

All over this country, at tax-payment time the private power utilities write checks running far into the millions to government. That money goes for schools, roads, police, fire departments, army and navy, coast guard, public buildings, courts and legislatures—in brief, for every function of government, and in addition for part of the cost of government and municipal electric plants which compete with or destroy the private industry. Destruction of highly taxed private enterprise by tax-exempt parasites makes all of us pay more taxes. Keep this in mind the next time you hear some politician urging socialization of the electric industry which has given this country the best, most extensive and the most economical electric service in the world.—Louverne Journal.

No Time to Play?

BABY'S YEARS of winsome cunningness pass all too swiftly for the mother whose numerous household cares keep her so busily engaged that she often must experience the tragedy of "no time to play with baby." Or that of "no time for outside diversion," with the consequence that her daily household duties become a drudge instead of the joy they could be.

Thanks to the planners in industry, electrical devices have been perfected which eliminate much of the drudgery of household work. The modern industrial viewpoint of "the greatest possible value for the least amount of money" has made them available at prices so moderate that even families with modest incomes can—by the step-at-a-time plan—enjoy completely electrified homes.

The electrical utility industry has so improved the generation and distribution of electricity that it has become one of the most dependable services known, delivered at a price which many users describe as being "the cheapest thing I buy."

Especially recommended as time and labor savers in the home (and also contributing to better living) are electric ranges and water heaters, electric dishwashers, electric refrigerators, electric washing machines and ironers, vacuum cleaners. There are sizes and models to suit all tastes and most pocketbooks.

Let's "Wind-up" The Christmas Seal Sale

Unpaid-for Christmas seals will be as so many dead soldiers in the war against tuberculosis, according to Mrs. M. P. Jeter, chairman of the Shelby County seal sale, in announcing "Seal Sale Wind-up Day." "We urge all those who have Christmas seals in desk drawers, or in corners at home, to bring forth these laggards and breathe the breath of life into them by the payment of one penny for each seal to the local tuberculosis association," Mrs. Jeter said.

"These seals were mailed to community residents in November. Your tuberculosis association is anxious to start its 1940 program and must apportion its budget carefully before it begins. Tuberculosis work continues through 365 days of the year, with one extra day's work this year. The association will be glad to tell you of the work it is doing to protect you and your loved ones from this disease."

LOCAL NEWS OF CALERA

FARM NOTES

Kudzu is a permanent hay crop and will produce about two tons of good hay per acre. Kudzu is also an excellent temporary grazing crop. February and the first half of March is the best time to plant kudzu. Serecia lespedeza is a good permanent hay crop, producing two cuttings per year. By establishing a few acres of serecia this spring will insure a good supply of hay after the first year. Under the farm program the planting of kudzu and lespedeza are land building practices, and a $6 payment is made for planting an acre of kudzu and $1.50 payment for an acre of serecia lespedeza.

Permanent pasture is one of the great needs on all farms, and a good pasture can be built on low moist land by seeding and applying phosphate and lime.

For the next two months terracing is the most important job on the average farm in Shelby County. Good terraces can be built by using a slip scrape alone or by using a plow and home made drag. Where the power outfit is available you can finance the work. This is the best plan.

Good varieties of cotton will increase the yield and staple. Farmers who do not have good pure seed should make arrangements for a supply.

Timber production is especially important in Shelby County since about 75 per cent of all the land is in timber. Fire protection will insure maximum production and every man in Shelby County should line up in the fire protection program that is being started.

Tax Receipts Reflect Improvements In Business Conditions

Montgomery, Ala.—The up-trend in general business conditions in Alabama during the past year has yielded an increase of $50,000 in funds earmarked for schools, not including sales tax receipts, according to a statement released by the Alabama Education Association Saturday.

Such funds are derived principally from taxes levied in 1937. For the year 1939 these special taxes totalled $4,493,228, while for 1938 they totalled $4,443,140.

The 1927 levies included taxes on tobacco sales, coal and iron tonnage, hydro-electric power and gross receipts reported by railroad, telephone and express companies.

Of the increases in earmarked funds from the several taxes the yield from iron tonnage for 1939 led with an increase of 36 per cent over the previous year, followed by a 24 per cent increase in hydro-electric revenue. Railroad receipts produced an increase of 10 per cent, telephone, 8 per cent, and tobacco, 6 per cent.

MRS. FRED FROST, JR., IS HONORED WITH SHOWER

Mrs. Fred Frost, Jr., the former Mary Nell Gentry, was honored at a shower at the home of Miss Zemina Holcombe in Calera last Friday afternoon, given by Misses Kate Bowdon, Ann Ingram, Mary Culver, Margaret Culver, and Zemina Holcombe.

The guests were received by the honoree, Mrs. Fred Frost, Sr., and the hostesses, Mrs. R. E. Bowdon poured tea and Misses Myra Frost and Cecile Cowart served refreshments. The bride's book was kept by Miss Virginia Frost. The bride received many lovely gifts from the many guests that attended.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday, February 4, will be celebrated by Baptists throughout the world as "Baptist World Alliance Sunday." In keeping with this occasion, Dr. Pearson will preach Sunday morning on "Baptists and Human Freedom." The subject for the Sunday evening sermon will be "The Open Window." The Sunday School hour is 9:45 a.m. The Baptist Training Union meets at 6:45 p.m.

The Sunday School lesson for Sunday is a temperance lesson, "Holding Life Sacred." The day will be observed by Baptists and by several other denominations as "Alabama Temperance Alliance Day." An offering will be taken in the Sunday Schools for the support of the Alabama Temperance Alliance. This is done by the vote of the Alabama Baptist State Convention. The Alliance is doing most excellent work for temperance education and for the cause of temperance generally. It deserves our hearty support.

Hostess—I hope by husband was not rude when he asked you to play?

Foreign Pianist—Oh, no, he asked me that I not play a certain tune.

Hostess—What did he say?

Foreign Pianist—He say, "Don't play for the love of Mike!"

Tuberculosis Causes One-Seventh Of Deaths In 15-44 Age Group

Mr. Frederick Wooten of Alabama spent last week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Wooten, while here he escorted his sister, Miss Nell Wooten to the Junior Prom which she is being president of the class.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Griffin of California have been visiting Mr. R. L. Griffin for several days. They left Monday for Greenville, S. C.

Miss Theda Watt spent last week end in Auburn where she attended the mid-term formal dances.

Mr. Robert Edward Lyman and Mr. Oliver Cleveland made a trip to Calera Tuesday.

Miss Gae Lewis left Thursday for the University of Alabama where she will be in the Cotillion Club lead-out during the mid-term formal dances.

Miss Frances Nybeck entertained a small group of her friends with a party Saturday night. The guests enjoyed making pop-corn balls. Those that attended were Pick Bridges, Ethelle Nathews, John Shores, Pat Weems, and Frances Woods.

Miss Frances Mims returned Saturday from Auburn where she attended the mid-term formal dances.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Klotzman attended the Aronov-Levine wedding Sunday night at Hotel Thomas Jefferson in Birmingham.

Health Project Popular With 4-H Clubs

Auburn, Ala.—Being happy is being healthy, believes Elizabeth DeLony, girls' state 4-H Club leader, who reports that 13,668 4-H Club boys and girls of Alabama practiced good health habits in 1939.

Alma Bolling of Perry County and Ira Till of Lowndes County, who were named Alabama's health champions during the past year, were selected first as county champions, then district champions and last state champions before they were awarded a trip to the National Montgomery, Ala. — More than one-seventh of all the deaths reported in Alabama in 1937 among those between 15 and 44 years of age were attributed to tuberculosis, Dr. J. N. Baker, State Health Officer, revealed today, quoting the 1937 report of the State Health Department's Bureau of Vital Statistics.

"During that twelve-month period Alabama deaths among those between 15 and 44 from all causes totaled 7,727," he said. "Of these, 1,141 were attributed to tuberculosis. Approximately four per cent of the total were due to cancer, about eight per cent to heart disease, approximately one-tenth to pneumonia, about five per cent to kidney disease, and about two per cent—one out of every 50—to cerebral hemorrhage."

Referring to the often heard characterization of tuberculosis as "the foe of youth," the State Health Officer urged particular vigilance upon those in the teen-age group.

Club Congress in Chicago in December. Choosing the healthiest boy and girl among the 4-H club members of the state was not easy, according to Miss DeLony. She quotes Dr. B. F. Austin of the State Department of Health who says, "Alabama's rural health is improving rapidly each year."

Here are some of the health habits the more than 13,000 club members practice in the 2,364 clubs in Alabama. Each day they brush their teeth twice and wash their hands before each meal. They drink a quart of milk and eat two kinds of vegetables besides potatoes, two kinds of fruit, two servings of whole grain cereals, and two servings of meat, eggs, fish, or dried peas or beans.

They also drink six glasses of water daily, starting the day by drinking at least one glass of water before breakfast. Correct posture habits are also observed.

EBENEZER NEWS

Everybody has been enjoying the beautiful snow. We have lots of snow men but we believe Jean Rogers has a snow woman.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Armstrong of Calera, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Garrett visited Mrs. E. L. Garrett who has been sick.

Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Frost, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Frost in Valley Grove.

Mr. Boyd Garrett had a bad wreck at Moore's Cross Roads last Wednesday. Another truck ran into him and he turned over, but was not injured.

Mr. Dennis' family moved from our community to Pea Ridge Sunday.

Mrs. Arthur Holcombe was called to Sandusky last week on account of the illness of her daughter, Mrs. Mack Hicks.

Roy and Virginia Ruth Holcombe spent the week end with little Billie Jack Holcombe.

Several of our men who work in Birmingham have had to stay up there on account of the snow.

Mrs. Lottie Lee has been sick but is better now.

Miss Sallie Lee is in Birmingham with her aunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Wyatt visited Mrs. R. L. Pate in Spring Creek last week.

Mr. Fred Draper and J. C. were in a wreck last week and J. C. was carried to the hospital. We hope his injuries are not serious.

Mr. Roy Barnett is in bed this week with flu.

We are very sorry that on account of the bad weather Brother Johnson could not fill his appointment Saturday night.

Bureau Of Census Commends Mayor On Local Work

Dr. Acker Receives Compliment From Chief of Public Relations On Work of Publicizing Census

Montevallo's mayor, Dr. Chas. T. Acker, has received a fully deserved commendation from the U. S. Bureau of the Census for his excellent work in publicizing the 1940 decennial census in this community.

The expression of the Bureau is made in a letter of January 10 to Dr. Acker, from Mr. Roscoe Wright, chief of public relations of the Census Bureau in Washington, as follows:

"Dear Mayor Acker:

"In accordance with your request of January 6, we are sending you twelve samples of some of our educational material.

"You certainly did a splendid job in getting publicity on your opening announcements. Thanks for sending the clippings.

"Wishing you success and thanking you for your cooperation, I am, very sincerely yours — Roscoe Wright, chief of Public Relations."

We repeat that this expression of praise for Mayor Acker's efforts in behalf of the Census is deserved. His activity in regard to the Census has placed Montevallo in the eyes of the Census Bureau as a very much alive and forward-looking community.

Johnson Is Appointed Head Of College Directors Of Publicity

Charleston, S. C.—Announcement was received today at The Citadel that James G. Johnson, public relations officer of the military college, has been appointed director of District 5 of the American College Publicity Association. The district embraces South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Florida, and Alabama.

Mr. Johnson has been active in the A. C. P. A. since 1935, and in 1938 was director of District 15, comprising Arizona and New Mexico, when he was director of public relations at the Arizona State Teachers College at Flagstaff.

The appointment came from Mr. Tom Johnston, of Purdue University in Indiana, vice-president of the A. C. P. A. in charge of regions. Miss Eleanor R. Mosely of Boston University is president of the association. Members of the organization include presidents and public relations officers of colleges, universities, and some business firms throughout the United States. Among its main purposes are to raise the standards of public relations in educational institutions, and to advance its members professionally.

In addition to The Citadel, members in District 5 include Alabama College, Alabama Engraving Co. of Birmingham, Auburn, Birmingham-Southern, Clemson College, Coker College, Emory University, Fisk University, Florida State College for Women, Furman University, Georgia State College for Women at Milledgeville, Georgia State Women's College at Valdosta, Huntingdon College, John B. Stetson University, Southwestern Tennessee Poly., Tusculum, University of Alabama, University of Florida, University of Georgia, Winthrop College, Paragon Press of Montgomery, Judson College, and Atlanta University.

HUBBARD AND INGRAM TO PREACH SATURDAY

Rev. Bennie Hubbard and Rev. Lem Ingram will preach at the following places next Saturday, using a loudspeaker: Fallston, 1 p.m.; Boothton, 3:30 p.m.; Vernon Schoolhouse in Bibb County, at 7 p.m. Everybody is invited.

College Night Leaders and Assistants

Pictured above are the leaders of College Night and Palmer Hall, where this greatest of all-student campus events takes place. Jean Letson, of Columbiana, is leader of the Golds. Her assistant is Mary Diamond, of Birmingham. Emily Pratt, of Birmingham, is leader of the Purples. Her assistant is Ann Canon, of Opelika. The 1940 College Night program will be presented two nights, Friday and Saturday, February 23 and 24.

Local Students Enter Oratorical Contest

Interest in the oratorical contest on "The Bill of Rights in the American Constitution," sponsored by the Birmingham News-Age-Herald, is increasing daily.

In this county, Alabama College Training School, of which Mr. W. F. Tidwell is principal, and Miss Loretta Skelly, school contest director, has the following pupils participating: Ann Appleton, Lucian Champion, Julian Hill, Iris Kirkpatrick, Louise Lovelady.

Miss Lovelady represented the Sixth Congressional District at the state finals last year.

Birmingham - Southern College will award a four-year scholarship valued at $800 to the winner of first place at the state finals to be held at Birmingham, April 26, and the News-Age-Herald will award $100 to winner of first place, $50 to second, $25 to third, and $10 each to the six remaining state finalists. Railroad fare and hotel bill for each visiting state finalist and chaperon will be paid by the News-Age-Herald.

The contest is directed throughout the state by Artemus Calloway, News-Age-Herald oratorical contest director.

G. C. King Killed In Dogwood Mine

Mr. G. C. King, employee in the coal mine at Dogwood, was killed instantly Monday morning by the unexpected falling of a wall of coal.

Reports say the wall had been cut and Mr. King was engaged in preparing for a blast when several tons of coal suddenly fell and piled on top of him. Death was instantaneous.

Funeral services and burial were at Helena Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Mr. King was a resident of the Maylene community.

Art Exhibit Features Southern Artists' Work

An opportunity to see the work in water colors and pastels of 19 of the leading aquarellists of the South will be given to local art-lovers February 4-18, when Alabama College sponsors the water color section of the Seventeenth Circuit Exhibition of the Southern States Art League. The exhibition of paintings will be in Bloch Hall.

This exhibition, selected by a special jury appointed by President James Chillman, Jr., director of the Museum of Fine Arts of Houston, Texas, from the Nineteenth Annual Exhibition of the League held in the Witte Memorial Museum, San Antonio, Texas, includes two of the prize-winning water colors and one which was awarded an honorable mention. It has work by such veterans in the field of water colors as Ellsworth Woodward and Lila M. Cabaniss, who have won prizes and have exhibited from the early days of the League; and also by newcomers like Adolph P. Emig and Lola Mueller, who are showing for the first time in a League exhibition.

Scenes of modern life—industrial subjects, railway stations, bathing groups—predominate, but there are also still life and flower studies, trees and streams. Styles vary markedly, as the tendency among the Texas artists is toward modern and radical experiments, while the workers in older states remain rather conservative.

MASONIC CONFERENCE

The Shelby County Masonic Conference will meet at Boothton Tuesday, February 13, at 2 p.m., according to Mr. C. D. Cowart, secretary. All Master Masons are invited to attend.

Mrs. R. B. Hicks is in St. Louis this week attending the American Retail Association. While there she will buy new spring merchandise for the Hicks Ben Franklin Store.

Co-operative House Has A Real Baby

Auburn, Ala. — A six-months-old baby boy, Grady Leon Young, now resides in the home economics practice house at Auburn where he is expertly cared for by six young women who are studying infant care.

Although Baby Leon has resided at the home management house for only two weeks, his "student mothers" have developed a definite attachment for him and discuss his habits and care with a most authoritative air. They boast that their home management house is the first in Alabama to have a real baby. This course in infant care is "lots of fun and not at all like work," they say.

President Harman Will Speak To Alumnae

Dr. A. F. Harman, president of Alabama College, will be chief speaker and honored guest at the College Night banquet to be given by the Birmingham Alumnae Association of Montevallo at 7 p.m. Friday at the Molton Hotel.

Dr. and Mrs. Harman will be accompanied by Dean and Mrs. T. H. Napier, Miss Frances Ribble, alumnae secretary, and college students who are to take part on the program.

Featuring the traditional College Night competition between Purples and Golds, with songs and stunts on each side, the program will be conducted by Mrs. John Maguire, alumnae president and toastmistress. Ammi Copeland and Billie Hill are to lead the two sides, with Eleanor Watson directing songs, Bess Rogers at the piano, and Carmen Ersel Burns giving the toast of dedication.

All Alumnae, persons who ever studied at Alabama College, and friends of the school are invited to the banquet.

Martin Is Chairman of Finnish Relief Drive

Birmingham, Ala. — Thos. W. Martin, president of Alabama Power Company, last week accepted the chairmanship for Alabama of the Finnish Relief Fund, Inc., succeeding Mr. Oscar Wells, chairman of the Board of of the First National Bank, who was obliged to resign because of illness.

In his acceptance of the chairmanship for the relief of Finnish women and children, made homeless and destitute by the ravages of war, Mr. Martin stated:

"The Finnish people have come to be greatly admired by many of the American people. They have been the only foreign nation to make prompt payment of their obligations to the United States. In addition, our admiration for the Finns has become crystallized by their fortitude and bravery in the face of unwarranted military invasion.

"We are told of the hunger and want of hundreds of thousands of women, children and feeble, made homeless by the ravages of war. Thousands of American citizens have opened their hearts as well as their pocketbooks, and have made liberal contributions to the Finnish Relief Fund, Inc., the entire proceeds of which—100 cents on the dollar—will be used for the purchase of food and clothing. No part of the fund will be used for the purchase of military supplies.

"In accepting the chairmanship of the Fund for Alabama, I did so feeling confident that many Alabama citizens would want to participate in this humanitarian effort."

Address By President Roosevelt Will Be Feature of Nation-wide Celebration

The nation's 1,330,000 Cubs, Boy Scouts, and their leaders will celebrate the 30th anniversary of the incorporation of the Boy Scouts of America in a week's observance beginning Thursday, February 8.

Boy Scout Week is the most important week in the Boy Scout calendar and nine million present and former Scouts and leaders will join the celebration which this year has as its theme "Scouting—The American Way."

The Scout program with its patrol method and other group action features is a "school for citizenship." Since Scouting provides for democratic group decisions and group action, the celebrations throughout the nation will be greatly varied. Each troop will celebrate the birthday anniversary in accordance with its own plans.

Radio will play an important role in Boy Scout Week celebrations, linking together the Scouts in the great rural areas with those in the cities and towns.

White House Broadcast

The high point of the week's observance will be a nation-wide broadcast from the White House, Thursday evening, February 8, in which President Roosevelt, as Honorary President of the movement and himself an active Scout leader, will talk to his "fellow Scouts and Scouters" as well as the millions of friends of Scouting.

A feature of the White House broadcast will be the annual rededication by the nation's Scouts to the Scout Oath which is the guiding principle of Scouting.

Sunday, February 11, will be Scout Reverence Day and in thousands of churches of every denomination there will be Scouts attending special services. More than half of the nation's 43,368 Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops, and Senior Scout groups are sponsored by the churches and synagogues of America.

Scouts will wear their uniforms and have special roles and demonstrations in public and private school assemblies. Fraternal and civic clubs will have Boy Scouts as their guest speakers who will give first-hand accounts of what Scouting means to them.

The outdoor activities will also have their part in the celebration where weather conditions permit. There will be camping trips, hikes and outdoor rallies, and there will be inter-troop winter sports carnivals where snow and ice conditions allow.

Mrs. Jarman Secretary of Congressional Club

Washington, Feb. 5 — Mrs. Pete Jarman was elected secretary of the 75th Congressional Club last week. This is a rather exclusive club because only those wives of members who came to Congress for the 75th Congress, January, 1937, are eligible for membership.

It is a non-partisan organization and a club that has a good purpose. Right now they are taking complete care of a young man stricken by that dread disease, infantile paralysis.

These women also visit the interesting places of Washington so that they in turn may take their husbands' constituents to these historic spots. Any one of these women can tell you, for instance, that the statue surmounting the United States capitol dome is the statue of Freedom and not an Indian as so many tourists think. They can tell you, too, about Mount Vernon, the home of George Washington; where the money is made; where the famous Edgar Hoover G-Men are headquartered; the location of the different embassies, churches, and homes of famous people.

HUBBARD AND INGRAM TO PREACH SATURDAY

Rev. Bennie Hubbard and Rev. Lem Ingram will preach at the following places next Saturday, using a loudspeaker: Fallston, 1 p.m.; Boothton, 3:30 p.m.; Vernon Schoolhouse in Bibb County, at 7 p.m. Everybody is invited.

College Night Leaders and Assistants

Pictured above are the leaders of College Night and Palmer Hall, where this greatest of all-student campus events takes place. Jean Letson, of Columbiana, is leader of the Golds. Her assistant is Mary Diamond, of Birmingham. Emily Pratt, of Birmingham, is leader of the Purples. Her assistant is Ann Canon, of Opelika. The 1940 College Night program will be presented two nights, Friday and Saturday, February 23 and 24.

Local Students Enter Oratorical Contest

Interest in the oratorical contest on "The Bill of Rights in the American Constitution," sponsored by the Birmingham News-Age-Herald, is increasing daily.

In this county, Alabama College Training School, of which Mr. W. F. Tidwell is principal, and Miss Loretta Skelly, school contest director, has the following pupils participating: Ann Appleton, Lucian Champion, Julian Hill, Iris Kirkpatrick, Louise Lovelady.

Miss Lovelady represented the Sixth Congressional District at the state finals last year.

Birmingham - Southern College will award a four-year scholarship valued at $800 to the winner of first place at the state finals to be held at Birmingham, April 26, and the News-Age-Herald will award $100 to winner of first place, $50 to second, $25 to third, and $10 each to the six remaining state finalists. Railroad fare and hotel bill for each visiting state finalist and chaperon will be paid by the News-Age-Herald.

The contest is directed throughout the state by Artemus Calloway, News-Age-Herald oratorical contest director.

G. C. King Killed In Dogwood Mine

Mr. G. C. King, employee in the coal mine at Dogwood, was killed instantly Monday morning by the unexpected falling of a wall of coal.

Reports say the wall had been cut and Mr. King was engaged in preparing for a blast when several tons of coal suddenly fell and piled on top of him. Death was instantaneous.

Funeral services and burial were at Helena Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Mr. King was a resident of the Maylene community.

Art Exhibit Features Southern Artists' Work

An opportunity to see the work in water colors and pastels of 19 of the leading aquarellists of the South will be given to local art-lovers February 4-18, when Alabama College sponsors the water color section of the Seventeenth Circuit Exhibition of the Southern States Art League. The exhibition of paintings will be in Bloch Hall.

This exhibition, selected by a special jury appointed by President James Chillman, Jr., director of the Museum of Fine Arts of Houston, Texas, from the Nineteenth Annual Exhibition of the League held in the Witte Memorial Museum, San Antonio, Texas, includes two of the prize-winning water colors and one which was awarded an honorable mention. It has work by such veterans in the field of water colors as Ellsworth Woodward and Lila M. Cabaniss, who have won prizes and have exhibited from the early days of the League; and also by newcomers like Adolph P. Emig and Lola Mueller, who are showing for the first time in a League exhibition.

Scenes of modern life—industrial subjects, railway stations, bathing groups—predominate, but there are also still life and flower studies, trees and streams. Styles vary markedly, as the tendency among the Texas artists is toward modern and radical experiments, while the workers in older states remain rather conservative.

MASONIC CONFERENCE

The Shelby County Masonic Conference will meet at Boothton Tuesday, February 13, at 2 p.m., according to Mr. C. D. Cowart, secretary. All Master Masons are invited to attend.

Mrs. R. B. Hicks is in St. Louis this week attending the American Retail Association. While there she will buy new spring merchandise for the Hicks Ben Franklin Store.

Co-operative House Has A Real Baby

Auburn, Ala. — A six-months-old baby boy, Grady Leon Young, now resides in the home economics practice house at Auburn where he is expertly cared for by six young women who are studying infant care.

Although Baby Leon has resided at the home management house for only two weeks, his "student mothers" have developed a definite attachment for him and discuss his habits and care with a most authoritative air. They boast that their home management house is the first in Alabama to have a real baby. This course in infant care is "lots of fun and not at all like work," they say.

President Harman Will Speak To Alumnae

Dr. A. F. Harman, president of Alabama College, will be chief speaker and honored guest at the College Night banquet to be given by the Birmingham Alumnae Association of Montevallo at 7 p.m. Friday at the Molton Hotel.

Dr. and Mrs. Harman will be accompanied by Dean and Mrs. T. H. Napier, Miss Frances Ribble, alumnae secretary, and college students who are to take part on the program.

Featuring the traditional College Night competition between Purples and Golds, with songs and stunts on each side, the program will be conducted by Mrs. John Maguire, alumnae president and toastmistress. Ammi Copeland and Billie Hill are to lead the two sides, with Eleanor Watson directing songs, Bess Rogers at the piano, and Carmen Ersel Burns giving the toast of dedication.

All Alumnae, persons who ever studied at Alabama College, and friends of the school are invited to the banquet.

Martin Is Chairman of Finnish Relief Drive

Birmingham, Ala. — Thos. W. Martin, president of Alabama Power Company, last week accepted the chairmanship for Alabama of the Finnish Relief Fund, Inc., succeeding Mr. Oscar Wells, chairman of the Board of of the First National Bank, who was obliged to resign because of illness.

In his acceptance of the chairmanship for the relief of Finnish women and children, made homeless and destitute by the ravages of war, Mr. Martin stated:

"The Finnish people have come to be greatly admired by many of the American people. They have been the only foreign nation to make prompt payment of their obligations to the United States. In addition, our admiration for the Finns has become crystallized by their fortitude and bravery in the face of unwarranted military invasion.

"We are told of the hunger and want of hundreds of thousands of women, children and feeble, made homeless by the ravages of war. Thousands of American citizens have opened their hearts as well as their pocketbooks, and have made liberal contributions to the Finnish Relief Fund, Inc., the entire proceeds of which—100 cents on the dollar—will be used for the purchase of food and clothing. No part of the fund will be used for the purchase of military supplies.

"In accepting the chairmanship of the Fund for Alabama, I did so feeling confident that many Alabama citizens would want to participate in this humanitarian effort."

Address By President Roosevelt Will Be Feature of Nation-wide Celebration

The nation's 1,330,000 Cubs, Boy Scouts, and their leaders will celebrate the 30th anniversary of the incorporation of the Boy Scouts of America in a week's observance beginning Thursday, February 8.

Boy Scout Week is the most important week in the Boy Scout calendar and nine million present and former Scouts and leaders will join the celebration which this year has as its theme "Scouting—The American Way."

The Scout program with its patrol method and other group action features is a "school for citizenship." Since Scouting provides for democratic group decisions and group action, the celebrations throughout the nation will be greatly varied. Each troop will celebrate the birthday anniversary in accordance with its own plans.

Radio will play an important role in Boy Scout Week celebrations, linking together the Scouts in the great rural areas with those in the cities and towns.

White House Broadcast

The high point of the week's observance will be a nation-wide broadcast from the White House, Thursday evening, February 8, in which President Roosevelt, as Honorary President of the movement and himself an active Scout leader, will talk to his "fellow Scouts and Scouters" as well as the millions of friends of Scouting.

A feature of the White House broadcast will be the annual re-dedication by the nation's Scouts to the Scout Oath which is the guiding principle of Scouting.

Sunday, February 11, will be Scout Reverence Day and in thousands of churches of every denomination there will be Scouts attending special services. More than half of the nation's 43,368 Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops, and Senior Scout groups are sponsored by the churches and synagogues of America.

Scouts will wear their uniforms and have special roles and demonstrations in public and private school assemblies. Fraternal and civic clubs will have Boy Scouts as their guest speakers who will give first-hand accounts of what Scouting means to them.

The outdoor activities will also have their part in the celebration where weather conditions permit. There will be camping trips, hikes and outdoor rallies, and there will be inter-troop winter sports carnivals where snow and ice conditions allow.

Mrs. Jarman Secretary of Congressional Club

Washington, Feb. 5 — Mrs. Pete Jarman was elected secretary of the 75th Congressional Club last week. This is a rather exclusive club because only those wives of members who came to Congress for the 75th Congress, January, 1937, are eligible for membership.

It is a non-partisan organization and a club that has a good purpose. Right now they are taking complete care of a young man stricken by that dread disease, infantile paralysis.

These women also visit the interesting places of Washington so that they in turn may take their husbands' constituents to these historic spots. Any one of these women can tell you, for instance, that the statue surmounting the United States capitol dome is the statue of Freedom and not an Indian as so many tourists think. They can tell you, too, about Mount Vernon, the home of George Washington; where the money is made; where the famous Edgar Hoover G-Men are headquartered; the location of the different embassies, churches, and homes of famous people.

J. ALEX MOORE VISITS THE SHORT "QUADS"

While on a visit to Jasper last week Dr. J. Alex Moore called at the Walker County Hospital and had a look at the famous Short quadruplets.

"They are cute as you please," he said, "as they repose peacefully in their little incubators enclosed in the special room which has been constructed for them."

We asked him what he thinks of the rivalry between Walker and Winston Counties for future custody of the children. "I predict they will not leave Jasper," he said assuringly.

Dr. and Mrs. Moore lived in Jasper for many years while he was superintendent of Walker County schools. They enjoy frequent visits to their former home there.

A GREAT AMERICAN ANNIVERSARY

This week all America is celebrating the 30th anniversary of the establishment of the Boy Scout Movement in America. The movement has its enthusiastic supporters everywhere. Indeed in its three decades nearly 9,000,000 Americans have been Scouts, Cubs, and Leaders. Today there are over 1,330,000 boys and men actively enrolled.

Now as never before, American adults are giving their time, energies and financial support to time-tested boys' and girls' organizations that help mold their children into types of citizens that will guarantee the continued existence of the United States along the pattern set by the nation's founders who gave America its democratic form of government and its precious heritage, the Constitution and its Bill of Rights.

Supplementing existing organizations such as the home, church, and school, the Boy Scouts of America engage boys' leisure-time energies in outdoor life and activities of cultural and practical value which lead boys to become dependable men.

Every president of the United States since William Howard Taft has been an enthusiastic supporter of Scouting and, every American who knows anything about Scouting's beneficial program acknowledges it as worthy of continued confidence and trust.

Mrs. Ella Shaw, mother of Luther and Walter, has been seriously ill with pneumonia for several days. The many friends of the family will be happy to learn that her condition is improved.

Postmaster R. A. Reid has been sick with flu for several days. His many friends miss his genial greetings at the postoffice windows—and the boys inside the office say they miss him, too.

IMPORTANT (?) QUESTIONS

The Census Bureau has prepared a list of 299 questions for the big job in April. We can think of a few more that strike us as equally important:

Do you know anybody who likes parsnips?

What is the most effective way of getting rid of peddlers?

Ever had a shirt that didn't wear out at the collar first? If so, where did you get it?

Have you ever shot a man for saying: "Stop me if you've heard this one before?"

Do you know a reliable cure for a hangover?

Have you ever said: "I am in favor of organized labor, but—?"

How do you intend to vote in November? — Alabama News Digest.

This paper is glad to join in the appeal of the Finnish Relief Fund, Inc. All funds collected are being remitted one hundred cents on the dollar for the purchase of clothing and food for destitute women, children and the aged, made homeless and hungry by the invasion of their country. Donations for this worthy cause should be by check or money order, payable to Finnish Relief Fund, Inc., and sent to your local bank or to J. C. Persons, president of The First National Bank of Birmingham, who is acting as Alabama treasurer of the Fund.

Toxoid Administration Change Is Made By Health Department

It is recommended by the State Health Department that certain changes be made in the administration of toxoid for the prevention of diphtheria. The recommended procedure will hereafter be followed by the County Health Department.

It has been well known that immunity to diphtheria failed to develop, in a certain percentage of cases, after the one dose of toxoid. Also that some of the children immunized lost their immunity after a somewhat variable lapse of time.

Study of the results obtained by several methods of toxoid administration has led to the conclusion that the dose of toxoid should be repeated to insure lasting protection against the dreaded disease—diphtheria.

The method which will be used by the County Health Department hereafter will be as follows: One dose of toxoid at 6 to 9 months of age and a second dose four weeks later. Then, when the child is ready to enter school, at about the age of 5 to 6 years, it should be given one-half a dose to further stimulate their immunity.

It is well known that there are a large number of diphtheria carriers among healthy school children and any school child will therefore have opportunity for exposure to diphtheria. Hence, his immunity should be stimulated at the beginning of his school life.

In children under 9 years of age who have, during their early childhood, received the one dose injection of toxoid, it is recommended that they be given a second dose.—E. F. Sloan, M. D., County Health Officer.

Judging Values Makes Better Shoppers

Auburn, Ala.—Eight hundred and thirty-two teams of Alabama 4-H Club girls learned better home-making in 1939 by judging articles of clothing, food products, food preservation products and home improvement articles and standards, according to Elizabeth DeLony, state 4-H Club girl's leader.

The judging team activity is one of the projects sponsored by the Alabama Extension Service to teach club girls better selection, better standards, and to enable the girls to use the knowledge obtained in the clubs.

"Each girl on the team must give her reasons for selecting one product above another and the judging project makes the girls better and wiser shoppers of the future," Miss DeLony says.

An elimination contest is held in the counties and districts culminating in the state contest at Auburn each summer. The judging champions of the 67 Alabama counties in 1939 were Fay Shamburger, Choctaw County, clothing; Mildred Brantley, Baldwin County, foods; Mary Guarisco, Baldwin County, home improvement; and Annie Lois Hickman, Butler County, food preservation. Miss Hickman participated as an individual at the National Club Congress at Chicago, and placed eighth in the nation, according to the state leader.

Work has been started on remodeling the home of Dr. J. I. Riddle on Highland Avenue.

Babies and Dogs are Camera Favorites

Babies and dogs like those above rank high in popularity as subjects for amateur photographers, the 1940 Kodak Exhibit reveals. To both camera enthusiasts, and laymen who just know a good picture when they see it, the photographs reproduced above are high spots in the exhibit of more than 200 photos now being exhibited in important United States cities.

The bright-eyed infant nibbling at his toe was taken by Ardean Miller of Rochester, N. Y., and "Mugs" comes from the camera of H. W. Vokes of the same city.

Free to the public, the exhibit is at the Hotel Thomas Jefferson in Birmingham from Friday, February 9 through Sunday, February 11, inclusive.

The bad weather of the past month has had a very unpleasant effect on the roads. It has literally taken all the fun out of carrying the mails, according to reports we hear from some of the rural carriers.

An Eagle Scout ranking is often considered the equivalent of two years of college training.

Too Tired For This?

EVERY mother would like to feel good enough, and have time enough, for a daily romp with the children. But many mothers, because their every minute—from waking time to bedtime—must be devoted to tiresome household duties, lack both the spirit and the time for such joyful play. Sometimes the fatigue brought on by the wearing monotony of work-work-work—much of it drudge-work—results in nervous irritability and depressing half-health, so that even the spirit for play weakens. And one of the great rewards of motherhood—companionship of children—cannot be realized.

We would be the last to claim that home electrification is a cure-all for "that tired feeling," or low spirits, or many other ills which beset the human body. Any doctor will tell you, however, that rest and play are essential to physical and mental well-being. Home electrical devices are time and labor savers—consequently, they do make available more time for rest and more time for play.

"Granted," you may say, "but we are not rich; we cannot afford complete home electrification." A pleasant surprise awaits you if you will visit one of our stores, or that of an electrical appliance merchant. There you will learn that for only a small down-payment and a modest amount each month, you can begin to electrify your home a step at a time, or maybe two steps at a time, and begin at once to enjoy the rewards of more time for companionship with your children. Especially recommended as time and labor savers are electric ranges, washing machines, ironers, dishwashers, vacuum cleaners and electric water heaters.

Because electricity is cheap in Alabama, you will have another surprise when you learn how little it costs to operate these electrical devices. This cost is not an added expense—it takes the place of the expense of the old-fashioned tiresome ways of doing things.

HOME OF HOBY HARRIS BURNED LAST FRIDAY

The home of Hoby Harris, Negro, in the "Jacksonville" section of town, was destroyed by fire last Friday afternoon. The building and all its contents was a complete loss.

The fire department answered the call promptly, but the fire had advanced so far it was impossible to stop it. By a "hot" piece of work for a few minutes the righters were able to save another house close by.

The location was not in reach of a fire plug, and the boys had to use the emergency tank on the truck, which they did to good advantage.

Chief Gardner appeals to everyone to stay out of the way of the truck and the fire department when an alarm is sounded. Rushing of cars and people to the scene of a fire, he says, usually interferes with the work of the department.

"When you go to a fire, please be careful to keep yourself and your car out of the way of the fire department," the chief requests.

The FORD Way of Doing Business

THE FORD MOTOR COMPANY was founded by a working-man for working-men. Its present officers began as employees of the Company. It was the first company to pay a minimum wage, beginning in 1914, at the then astounding figure of $5 a day. That was double the prevailing wage of the time. The Ford minimum is now $6 a day for all employees engaged in production work. And from that, the wages rise to $10.80 a day, with the average wage $7.25, exclusive of salaried employees.

THE FORD MOTOR COMPANY was the first large company to establish the 8-hour day—also in 1914. And the 40-hour week was inaugurated by the Ford Motor Company in 1926, years before any such laws existed.

ALL THIS is reflected in Ford products, whether cars, trucks or tractors. The work is honestly done. The materials are the best that can be made or procured. Less profit to the Company and more value to the customer is known throughout the world as "Ford's way of doing business."

FORD MOTOR COMPANY was the first to make a motor car within the means of the average family—quitting the manufacture of what was then the largest selling model in the world to do so. Its chosen field in all the 30 years since that time has been the average American family, for which it has consistently provided car facilities which formerly only the wealthy could buy.

IT IS THE POLICY of the Ford Motor Company to share the benefits of advanced methods and management with workers and public alike. Increased wages and employment over a period of many years have resulted in A 300 PER CENT INCREASE IN THE BUILT-IN VALUE OF THE FORD CAR AND A 75 PER CENT REDUCTION IN ITS PRICE.

Henry Ford and Edsel Ford keep daily personal touch with all phases of Ford manufacture. In a conference with his staff, Henry Ford often says: "Go ahead—I'll sit here and represent the public."

At the worship service next Sunday morning the pastor will speak on "Freedom, False and True." The P. S. A. meets at 7 p.m.

Committees Named For Civic Club

The Montevallo Civic Club met Wednesday noon at the Methodist Church. President Gordon McCloskey presided.

After the club disposed of its business, Mr. J. H. Henning, chairman of the program committee, presented Miss Sara Rumbley and Miss Yenna York, Alabama College debaters. These young ladies presented very interestingly two sides of the question of United States isolation, military and economic, in relation to European countries engaged in war. They presented many strong points of argument that add weight to the thoughts of those who find it interesting and valuable to study the subject.

President McCloskey announced the following standing committees of the club to serve until next July: Membership and attendance: A. W. Vaughan, J. L. Appleton, F. P. Givhan.

Program: Carey Stabler, J. H. Henning, Stanley White, F. B. Pearson.

Hospitality: J. M. Shores, J. I. Riddle.

Jimmie Gorman Taking Census Of Business

Mr. James O. Gorman, of Vincent, is now engaged in taking the census of business and manufactures in Shelby County. He is working under the sixth district supervisor, Mr. O. M. Cathey, whose office is in Tuscaloosa.

Mr. Gorman began the business census of Shelby County January 6. His work, like that of everyone else has been handicapped by the unusually bad weather. "I am getting straightened out now," he said, "and I find the business men most cordial and ready to respond to the census requests in making reports." The business census is to be completed the last of March and the population census starts April 1.

Soil Erosion Toll Of Nation Is 400 Million Dollars

Washington, D. C.—Half of all the land in the United States has been damaged by erosion and the process is costing farmers of the nation at least $400,000,000 a year in the removal of soil fertility alone, H. H. Bennett, chief of the Soil Conservation Service, says in his annual report to Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace.

"Across the farm and range lands of the country," Bennett says, "some 282 million acres either have been ruined or severely damaged by soil erosion. On an additional 775 million acres the process of erosion is actively under way."

To fight this wastage of soil resources, farmers are organizing soil conservation districts under state conservation legislation. By June 15, Bennett reports, 36 states had passed laws permitting farmers to organize these new subdivisions of government "for purposes of cooperative attack on local land problems." By the same date, 161 districts, covering approximately 80,500,000 acres, had been organized in 26 of these states. (As of December 15, the number of districts had been increased to more than 200, covering nearly 120,000,000 acres.)

Defining these districts as "the most promising avenue to nationwide improvement in the use of land," the Soil Conservation Service head declares "this type of

Damage To Canned Foods Caused By Cold Weather

Auburn, Ala.—Reports that much of Alabama's canned fruits and vegetables have been destroyed by cold weather drew a warning today from Lavada Curtis, food preservation specialist of the Alabama Extension Service, who urged extreme caution in the use of the spoiled products.

Miss Curtis quoted a report of the research department of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute which stated that cracked or broken glass jars of canned food caused by the freeze should be destroyed, and under no circumstances should food from a broken jar be used. Slivers and broken particles of glass, as well as harmful bacteria, are dangerous at any time and any attempt to salvage the canned product after the glass is cracked or broken is taking unnecessary chances with life.

The report of the research department also revealed that where the seal of the container was not broken or the glass container cracked or broken, the product may be thawed slowly without breaking the seal. It can then be stored for future use.

Fruits, vegetables and meats stored in cans which have frozen may be thawed slowly without loss of the seal has not been broken, the specialist said, adding that under such circumstances the freezing would likely lower the quality of the product by breaking down the cells.

"If the jars have been cracked or broken, destroy the product and do not attempt to strain or otherwise try to remove any particles of glass," Miss Curtis said. "One cannot be certain that all the glass is removed. On the other hand, products in tin containers can be salvaged and by slow thawing the breakdown of the cells kept at a minimum."

She pointed out that in most of the southern half of the state most of the canned products have already been thawed by the warmer weather. In North Alabama, however, the reports indicate that a great deal of the products are still frozen.

cooperative community enterprise—advantageous to farmers and ranchers within a district—is proving helpful at the same time to a number of governmental agencies, because they are able, in many cases, to discharge their responsibilities more economically and more completely through soil conservation districts than in any other way."

In his report, Bennett condemns the oft-expressed generalization that every farmer who adopts soil conserving farming methods is subject to financial losses. Generalities of this kind, he says, slow down the adoption of conservation measures and in so doing, "cost a great many farmers thousands of dollars each year."

Data collected by the Soil Conservation Service during the past five years, the report states, "indicate that on thousands of farms and ranches the application of soil and water conservation measures and other practices of wise land use may reasonably be expected to result in immediate financial returns, and certainly would cause no losses."

Printers, publishers of newspapers and periodicals, and allied industries such as bookbinding, engraving, lithographing, photo-engraving and stereotyping, will be shown by industry classifications and areas, by the Census of Manufactures taken in 1940 for the year 1939.

Demand for farm products is expected to be stronger during the coming year than it was in 1939 mainly because people in town will be employed more and will have more money to spend for farm products. The outbreak of war was partly responsible for more people being put to work in the latter part of 1939.

Potato Swap Plan Is Going Forward

Auburn, Ala.—Lyle Brown, extension horticulturist of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, announces that the second step in the program for swapping North Alabama and South Alabama Irish potato seed will take place in mid-January. This program to keep Irish potato seed money in the state is receiving good support from both farmers and agricultural workers, he points out.

Last spring farmers in North Alabama secured from Baldwin County potato seed from the spring crop to grow their own fall crop, with a view to sending seed back to South Alabama for the spring crop this year, according to Brown. Experiment station results have indicated that these North Alabama seed will give as good results as seed grown in western states.

"These South Alabama seed were selected from fields where the crop was grown from the highest yielding and cleanest western certified seed," he said "The resulting yields were most encouraging with the South Alabama seed giving higher yields in practically all cases, and as much as double those from home grown seed in some cases. This was partially because of a longer rest period before replanting, which is very important for Irish potatoes."

These fall grown potatoes from the South Alabama seed were inspected and certified by the State Department of Agriculture and growers in Baldwin and Escambia Counties will have about 15 acres in ten or twelve demonstration plantings this spring. It is expected that, as a result of the good performance of these South Alabama seed, there will be many more secured by North Alabama farmers for this fall's crop, Brown points out.

Two important practices on Alabama farms during the next few weeks should be the planting of kudzu and trees. The Triple-A program helps farmers to defray the cost of these practices by making a payment of $6 an acre for kudzu and $7.50 per acre for planting trees. Under the 1940 Triple-A program, farmers may earn $30 in addition to other payments by planting as much as four acres of trees.

County Farm Bureau Makes Plans For Year

Meeting In Columbiana Held To Discuss Rural Conditions And Outline Year's Work

A number of Shelby County Farm Bureau members and farm women met in Columbiana Saturday, February 10, to discuss farming conditions and formulate plans for the year's work.

The general theme of the meeting was: "Doing more work with a larger number of people and assisting in getting legislative parity with other organized groups."

Mr. J. Frank Baker, president of the Shelby County Farm Bureau, explained that farmers are the least organized of any group of people today, and for that reason it is more difficult for the farmer to be on a parity and get favorable legislation in local, state and national legislative bodies.

It is generally conceded that the American Farm Bureau Federation speaks for organized agriculture and its leaders have been most influential in helping to formulate the policies and programs that we now have and which are of untold value to our farmers.

Since other groups are highly organized and maintain efficient lobbies to look after legislation beneficial to their groups, it is necessary that farm people have someone in close contact with representatives both in the state legislature and national congress.

The cotton farmer came very near losing the 1940 parity payment on cotton; everyone knows that the Southern farmer needs this benefit to help get nearer parity prices for cotton. Today the same question is being debated in Congress for 1941 parity payments. We need a stronger organization today than ever before to assist in obtaining what rightfully belongs to the farmer. Appropriations are being taken away from the agricultural department, where other organized groups still maintain their appropriation. The Farm Bureau Federation fought for favorable action in the 1940 Congress, and is still doing so today. Shelby County farmers need to lend their support to this organization that is fighting for their benefit.

In Shelby County we are going to assist the extension workers in organizing community agricultural clubs. These clubs are to function as a means for the county agricultural workers to reach more people and get more work done.

A number of farmers made talks and pledged their support in making the organization successful in Shelby County as an educational and promotional factor.

At 12 o'clock a barbecue and Brunswick stew plate was served to the Farm Bureau members, farm women and friends.

It was decided to hold a county-wide meeting at an early date to elect officers and make plans to further this program in the county.

"Double Doors" Is Play Produced by Juniors

The junior class of Alabama College will present a mystery play for the first time in ten years when they present, March 29, "Double Doors," a three-act drama by Elizabeth McFadden.

Tryouts were held by Miss Margaret Flory, director, last week. Rehearsals will begin immediately after College Night week-end.

The class committee helping Miss Flory select the play included Nell Wooten, chairman, Irene Swift, Mary Scott Howell, Jean Farr, and Anita Motes.

Miss Margaret Florey, Miss Nora Landmark, and Mr. Jack Warfield went to see the play given by Katherine Cornell in Birmingham Monday night.

Another Community Get-Together Is Scheduled For Saturday Night

Place Your Orders Now For College Night Tickets

Once upon a time on Washington's birthday a celebration was planned to honor the Father of our Country. The event was at Alabama College and it still is celebrated under the name "College Night."

College Night has grown to such immense proportions that Palmer Auditorium, with a seating capacity of 1,500, cannot accommodate the people from all over the state who want to come.

Because of our employment situation, the majority of working people find it necessary to see College Night on Saturday. Because of our unfortunate seating situation the Student Government Association cannot seat all the people on Saturday night. The result is that tickets for Saturday night are sold out, while Thursday and Friday nights are fast going. The appeal is going out to those people in the immediate locality who wish to see College Night to come on Thursday or Friday night, and to send in requests while tickets are available.

A representative of the Student Government Association will be in Wilson's Drug Store on Saturday, February 18, from 10 to 12 a.m. to take ticket requests.

You are invited to come and meet your neighbors at the second get-together party at Montevallo High School next Saturday night, February 17. The time you should be there is 7 o'clock.

Song leaders from every community are urged to come. Bring your books and your singers, prepared to take part on the program.

There will be a free moving picture program — one that you will enjoy.

If you have a musician in your community, bring him along. A few old-time fiddling numbers would be welcome. We will be glad to have you if you have nothing but a cornstalk fiddle and a pair of pine-bark specks.

The high school will display many interesting exhibits of things the students have done in school. Every parent will enjoy seeing these things.

Folks from the rural communities are urged to come and bring the whole family. Fetch the baby and small children, too. There will be a story hour for the little ones and a nursery to take care of the baby.

Everybody come. We are going to have a good time. It doesn't cost anything, and if you don't have a good time, we will not ask you to come again. We are looking for you folks from Spring Creek, Dry Valley, Ebenezer, Boothton, Underwood, Aldrich, Wilton, Ashby, and all the cross-roads in between.

B. P. W. TO MEET

The Business and Professional Women's Club will hold its regular monthly meeting on Monday, February 19, at 7:30 at Mrs. Roy B. Hicks' residence.

Mrs. Bessie Merle Elliott will be leader for the evening. The program will be built around the subject "Social Life in Our Town." Marian Hughes will sing and talks will be made by Mrs. Ethel Mahan and Dr. Minnie L. Steckel. Refreshments will be served.

Thompson High Students Enter

Interest in the oratorical contest on "The Bill of Rights in the American Constitution," sponsored by the Birmingham News-Age-Herald, is increasing daily.

In this county, Thompson High School, of which William Poe is principal, Mrs. Doris L. Jeter, school contest director, the following pupils are participating: Edna Sissons, Myrtle Gray, Marguerite Coats, Thelma Berryhill, Lola Siddons, Mary Louise Evans, Emory Halston, Vivian Armstrong, Rebecca Payne, Willie Gray Clardy, Cora Davis, Brince Roper, Alma Rutherford, Lois Carroll, Minnie Draper, Thelma Chandler, James Glenn, Leonard Ozley, Sumter Allen, Warren Kent, John Clark, Louis Flowers, T. L. Wallace.

Contestants for Montevallo High School have already been announced.

Birmingham - Southern College will award a four-year scholarship valued at $800 to the winner of first place at the estate finals to be held at Birmingham, April 26, and the News-Age-Herald will award $100 to winner of first place, $50 to second, $25 to third, and $10 each to the six remaining state finalists. Railroad fare and hotel bill for each visiting state finalist and chaperon will be paid by the News-Age-Herald.

The contest is directed throughout the state by Artemus Calloway, News-Age-Herald oratorical contest director.

Mrs. Pete Givhan and Mrs. Fred Frost, Sr., spent Sunday in Birmingham where they visited Miss Gene Lewis, who is in a hospital. Miss Lewis' condition is reported to be improving.

WALLACE GIVES REASONS FOR AGRICULTURAL TROUBLE

Three reasons for agricultural trouble listed by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, are:

1. There was wartime expansion of cultivated crops when farmers patriotically plowed up 40,000,000 extra acres to help win the war.
2. There was the abrupt change of the United States after the war from a debtor to a creditor nation, making it difficult for foreign nations to buy our surplus farm crops.
3. There was the displacement of the horse by the automobile, truck, and tractor, and the release of 35,000,000 acres that had formerly been used for production of feed.

Infant Deaths Total 21 In County

During the last year there were 21 infant deaths in Shelby County. Many of the causes of death in early infancy are preventable.

Prevention must begin with the cure of the mother before the child is born. Proper diet and general care of the mother from the beginning of the prenatal period are essential to the baby's health. The mother should have a blood test at the beginning of this period and if syphilis should be present and early treatment instituted, a healthy baby would be the result of this precaution.

When the baby arrives, the problems of feeding, fluid requirements, proper clothing, bathing, sun baths, room temperature, ventilation and protection against communicable diseases must be met.

For the young baby, of course, mother's milk is the ideal food. Many mothers, however, make the serious mistake of nursing their babies too long and failing to add necessary supplementary feeding at the proper time. These errors may lead to dangerous nutritional disturbances, anemia, etc.

When nursing is impossible, it is imperative that the baby's food be prescribed by his doctor. In the case of artificially fed infants, the formula must be changed often to suit the baby's requirements. Only the trained physician knows what amount of the various food elements should be given, when to increase the amount of feedings, and when to begin adding supplementary foods. Vitamin containing substances as cod liver oil and orange juice or tomato juice are a necessary part of the diet.

The baby should be very carefully protected from close contact with adults who, although healthy, may carry disease germs to which the baby has no resistance. People with ordinary "colds" may transmit to the baby a respiratory infection which may prove fatal. Kissing the baby's face or hands may transfer infection to him.

The baby should be weighed at regular intervals, weekly if possible, as a steady gain in weight is one of the best indications of satisfactory progress and a failure to gain calls for immediate attention.

When the baby is six to nine months old, he should have his first dose of diphtheria toxoid and when a year old, should be vaccinated against smallpox. — E. F. Sloan, M. D., County Health Officer.

Girl Scout Council Entertains Troop Leaders

The Girl Scout Council entertained the troop leaders with a spaghetti supper at the Little House Monday night. Those attending were: Mrs. W. D. Jackson, Mrs. A. W. Vaughan, Mrs. E. P. The council members who attended were Mrs. W. J. Kennerly, Mrs. E. H. Wills, Mrs. Paul Rogan, Mrs. O. B. Cooper, Mrs. Ted Bridges, Mrs. J. T. Bagwell and Miss Minnie Barker.

Finnish Relief Chairmen Of County Named

S. A. Lokey Heads Drive In County and Dr. Fred B. Pearson Is Montevallo Chairman

We have long admired the sturdy Finns for their industry, thrift, and honesty, and of late we have been thrilled by their heroic defense of everything sacred and noble in a race of people, and our sympathies have been greatly aroused by the suffering of their non-combatant population caused by ruthless and wanton serial attacks on homes, hospitals, and churches.

Our patriotism prevents us as citizens of a neutral country from taking sides in a military way, but it does not prevent us from giving aid and succor to the destitute women and children.

Adolf Hitler has sneered at our efforts, but we hope that before this campaign is over that even he will be convinced that there are other powers growing from the emotions of the human heart than the lust for carnage and destruction.

Mr. Thomas W. Martin, state chairman of the Finnish Relief Fund, Inc., has appointed S. A. Lokey as chairman for Shelby County. Mr. Lokey has appointed Ross B. Mullins of the Columbiana Savings Bank as county treasurer, and the following community chairmen:

Mrs. Homer Walton, Columbiana; Dr. F. B. Pearson, Montevallo; Mrs. E. V. Rutledge, Siluria; Mrs. Joe Davidson, Helena; Mr. A. L. Word, Pelham; Mrs. Wilson Durden, Saginaw; Mrs. R. T. McGraw, Vincent; Mr. A. F. Blackerby, Chelsea; Mr. Nelson Archer, Westover; Mr. W. W. Elliott, Wilsonville; Mrs. Dick Martin, Calera; Mr. R. R. Hunt, Harpersville; Mr. J. B. King, Dogwood; Mr. Lewis Blackerby, Wilsonville RFD; Mrs. Elizabeth Graham, Leeds, Rt. 1; Miss Reba Bentley, Columbiana RFD; Mr. W. R. Atkins, Marvel RFD; Mrs. Ulmer Fancher, Maylene; Mrs. Josie McLaughlin, Helena Rt. 1; Mr. E. J. Sullivan, Shelby; Mrs. Estelle Cox, Sterrett; Mr. L. D. Riggins, Vandiver; Mr. C. D. Barefoot, Dunnivant; Mr. W. C. Evans, Bamford; Mr. J. E. St. Sure, Boothton.

If you wish to have a part in this great undertaking, please do not wait to be called on, but see the chairman of your community and make your contribution, or you can leave it at your local bank to be forwarded to the county treasurer. All donations will be transferred 100 per cent to the Finnish Fund.

Violator Of Social Security Law Is Found Guilty

Montgomery, Ala.—Walter Wade McGowin, white textile worker of Huntsville, must pay $145.60 for collecting $24 in unemployment benefits on the representation that he was unemployed when in fact he was drawing sufficient wages to bar him from benefits.

The Division of Unemployment Compensation, Department of Industrial Relations, was notified today that McGowin pleaded guilty in two cases. He was fined $50 and required to pay costs totaling $22.80 in each case. An additional penalty of 30 days imprisonment was imposed in each case but the trial judge announced that the prison term would be suspended on payment by McGowin of the fines and costs and the return to the unemployment trust fund of the money he collected illegally.

Postmaster R. A. Reid is able to be at his office again this week. He says he has had two weeks of flu "of the real old 1918 kind."

FINNISH RELIEF FUND

The campaign to raise money for the relief of the Finns who are suffering because of the war is being extended into every section of the country. Heretofore, the appeal has been made largely through the newspapers. It was felt, however, that the amounts being sent in, while they were very generous on the part of some, were wholly inadequate to meet the barest necessities of the Finns who are suffering so unjustly. For that reason, it was decided to press the campaign in every community.

Mr. S. A. Lokey, county chairman, has asked Dr. Fred B. Pearson, pastor of the Montevallo Baptist Church, to present the appeal to the people of Montevallo. He is asking the churches, clubs, and any other social groups to take the matter up at their earliest convenience and deal with it as seems best to each group. It is entirely a voluntary matter, of course, but it is a very worthy cause and should have the hearty support of all groups and all individuals who feel able to make a contribution to it.

Dr. Pearson asks that all groups or individuals who have contributions to this fund deposit them at the Merchants and Planters Bank to the account of the Finnish Relief Fund. Or the funds may be turned over to Dr. Pearson or to Mr. Wyatt, editor of The Montevallo Times. In any case, please turn in to Dr. Pearson or Mr. Wyatt a statement of the amount given, so that a complete record may be kept. A report will be published in The Times each week, stating the amounts given by groups or by individuals (or anonymously, if you prefer).

BETTER GASOLINE

Mr. J. A. Brown, through his local distributing agency, the Acme Oil Company, is now emphasizing the new gasolines that have been recently developed by Gulf Refining Company.

In a page advertisement in The Times this week Mr. Brown brings the new Good Gulf and No-Nox to the attention of the public in his territory.

These already popular motor fuels by Gulf have been stepped up in octane content and are proving a higher degree of satisfaction to users. Mr. Brown urges you to fill up your tank with the new Good Gulf or Gulf No-Nox and see the difference.

After a vacation of several weeks, enforced by the extreme winter weather, the public works projects of this community are gradually getting back into activity. Workers are back on the job at the street paving, also on the addition to Montevallo High School building.

Red Cross relief agencies are engaged in helping the people of Albany, Georgia, where a disastrous storm inflicted heavy damage last Saturday morning — reminding us again that the Red Cross is always on the job when human suffering and distress exists. If you paid your membership dollar last year, you have a part in this mission of mercy.

Mr. Walter C. Weems returned home last Sunday from a stay of several weeks in the Veterans Hospital at Tuscaloosa. He hopes to be out attending to business in a few more days.

Mr. Clyde J. Davis of Montgomery spent the past week end with friends in Montevallo.

We regret to learn that Mrs. R. A. Reid is sick. Her many friends hope she will have a quick recovery.

Dogwood News

Mrs. Bernie D. Harrison left Thursday to join her husband in San Diego, California.

Hunters Warned Of Danger Of Rabbit Fever

Montgomery, Ala. — Hunters and others handling wild rabbits were urged today by Dr. J. N. Baker, State Health Officer, to wear rubber gloves when doing so and to observe a few other simple precautions in order to avoid developing tularemia or "rabbit fever."

The disease is readily transmitted from diseased rabbits to persons when the human hand or some other part of the body comes into direct contact with the rabbits, he said. "The germ enters the body through a cut or sore which may be no larger than a pin prick. Even though the mortality, fortunately, is low, tularemia often involves a long period of invalidism. This usually places a heavy financial burden upon the sick person and the members of his family. Like a number of other forms of illness, this one is easily prevented but sometimes difficult to cure."

In addition to wearing rubber gloves while handling or cleaning rabbit meat, the State Health Officer recommended to hunters, housewives, restaurant employees, and others:

- (1) Keep hands away from face and eyes while handling rabbits.
- (2) Burn or sterilize any article that comes into contact with rabbit or other game.
- (3) Cook rabbit meat thoroughly before allowing it to be served.

"I Would Be Companionable"

NOT so long ago, a thousand school children were asked to write a composition on "The Kind of a Parent I Want to Be." More than half, among the other qualities they mentioned as being desirable, said "I would be companionable."

There can be little doubt that the parents, and especially the mothers of most of those children who expressed that ideal, also cherished the desire to be companionable.

But to be companionable takes time, and time is scarce in homes where the household tasks of cleaning, dishwashing, cooking, laundering and ironing are done in the hard, old-fashioned way. Too, it's not easy to be companionable when one is dead tired.

Many thousands of women have learned through experience that the cleanliness, convenience and labor-saving features of home electrical devices not only make possible more time for companionship, but because they are less tiring, make one feel like wanting to be companionable.

It requires no fat pocketbook to enjoy a completely electrified home. By the "step by step" plan, many a modest home has become completely electrified and because electricity is cheap in Alabama, there is usually no increased expense for operating the electrical equipment. Quite frequently there is a saving.

Inquire about the low operating cost of electric ranges, refrigerators, washing machines, pumps, ironers, dishwashers, the next time you are near one of our stores or a dealer's, and learn how conveniently time- and labor-saving electrical equipment may be had.

THE EVOLUTION OF MICKEY ROONEY

Mickey at the age of eleven months made an appearance at the Palace Theatre in New York on New Years of 1922.

Mickey at the age of three was a veteran trouper. By this time he was appearing in vaudeville.

Mickey at the age of four was dressed in his first tuxedo, and his routine on the stage was a song-and-dance act.

Mickey at the age of five wore his first tailored suit. This suit, including the vest, was made from a yard of cloth.

In 1927 Mickey appeared as the famous cartoon character, Mickey McGuire, in a series of short comedies.

Mickey in his latest screen endeavor portrays Thomas A. Edison, as a boy in "Young Tom Edison."

Scholarships Offered In Essay Contest

Macon, Ga.—The Old South of the "Gone With the Wind" days and other important periods in American history will be revived in an essay contest announced this week by Wesleyan College of Macon, Georgia, and open to high school seniors throughout the South.

Contestants in six southern states—Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, and Alabama—will search through dusty albums, family portraits, molded wills, and other documents of historical value for material for the essay.

The essay contest is one of two groups of contests offered each year by the oldest woman's college in the world. These scholarships are offered to high school seniors who rank highest in a competitive examination given each year by the school. The total value of the scholarships is $1,100.

February 17 has been set as the deadline for mailing of applications in the essay and competitive examination contests. Wesleyan authorities have announced. Complete information regarding the time and place of the contests has been sent to high school principals throughout the South.

P. T. A. TO MEET

The Parent-Teachers' Association will meet February 20 at 3:15 p.m. in the auditorium of the Elementary School.

County Agent To Hold Workstock Clinics

I am giving below a list of meetings at which demonstrations or clinics on diseases and defects of workstock will be given. We should like for you to attend and bring your workstock.

At these meetings, we, assisted by able veterinarians, will give practical suggestions for feeding and care of workstock and make examinations for diseases and defects and be of any other assistance possible toward improving the general health condition and efficiency of your workstock.

It is vital that this be done before plowing season begins. You have most likely attended one of these demonstrations or clinics in the past. The 1940 meetings will be conducted along the same general lines as in the past. This will be the only series of such meetings we will be able to conduct this year, and we again urge you to bring your workstock to one of these meetings listed below:

Monday, February 19—Vincent, 1 to 4 p.m.; Harpersville, 4 to 5:30 p.m.

Tuesday, February 20—E. E. Wallis' Store, 1 to 4 p.m.

Clerks' Local No. 185 met at the Legion Hut Tuesday night, February 13. The following officers were elected.

Mr. Raymond Conway, president; Mrs. Bernice McLain, vice-president; Mr. Mitchell Young, business agent; Miss Jacque Battle, financial secretary; Mrs. Willie M. Ambrose, corresponding secretary. Mrs. Sybil Jones was elected to collect the union dues under the new check-off system made effective in the last contract.

The retail clerks hope to go forward in the new year with every effort put forth to get all the surrounding locals to urge their members to trade with stores having union cards.

DISASTER LOAN CORPORATION RECEIVING APPLICATIONS

The Disaster Loan Corporation is taking applications from the farmers of Shelby County and wishes to advise that the farmers who wish to make a loan should file an application at an early date as it takes two weeks to get the loan approved. This is a very liberal loan with only three per cent interest, beginning four months from date of note. To make application, see David Norwood in the courthouse, Columbiana.

Mrs. L. C. Parnell spent last week end in SSulligent with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Jackson.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATION MEETING

The mid-year meeting of the Shelby County Baptist Association will be held with the Calvary Hill Baptist Church on Thursday of next week. The program, which will be of an inspirational nature, will begin at 10:00 a.m. Calvary Hill Church is on the Siluria Road, near Moore's Cross Roads, four miles from Montevallo. All the churches in the association are expected to send representatives. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Girl Scouts of Troop 2 met at the Little House Monday afternoon. Since there hasn't been any Girl Scout news in the paper lately, this is going to include several weeks' activities.

Frances Woods was taken into the troop with an investiture ceremony on Monday three weeks ago.

The patrols are planning a series of contests among themselves. The winner will be entertained by the other two patrols. Sara Henry Reynolds' patrol won the quiz contest about the laws and rules of Scouting.

Miss Edythe Saylor has been helping the girls with the folk dancing badge. Most of the dances they have learned are old English dances. Frances Nybeck and Pat Weems from the senior troop are participating in this activity, also.

Mrs. Mary Edward Mitchell came to the Scout house one afternoon and told the girls about her visit to Juliette Lowe, the founder of Girl Scouts. Mrs. Mitchell made a very nice talk about her and also gave information about the city that she lived in, Savannah, Ga.

The following girls, Miss Ribble and Miss Parks, assistant leaders, were present: Mary Jean Kennerly, Sarah Barr, Julia Rogan, Alice Ray Clemmons, Sara Henry Reynolds, Tootsie Clayton, Margaret Bickler, Frances Woods, Virginia Barnes, Peggy Davis, Edine Sellers, Edna Wells, and Dama Wills.

MILTON JETER CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Milton Jeter celebrated his birthday on February 3 with a party. There were 22 little boys and girls invited to help celebrate this happy occasion.

After an hour of play, the little guests were invited into the dining room where they were served ice cream and cake from a prettily decorated table and a beautiful cake bearing five candles. Those invited were Sue Henning, Joy Holcomb, Pat and Agee Kelly, Rita Joyce Day, Juanita Holder, Mike Mahan, Harry Klotzman, Mary Catherine Cox, Gene Hoffman, Martha Jane and Mary Charles Mahaffey, Eleanor Mitchell, Roy Davis, Pep Jeter, Ashley Jeter, Allen Prude Fancher, Jane and Joel Russell, Carlisle Towery, Bill Tidwell, Ed Givhan, Laura Ann Hicks.

Records Of Alabama Veterans To Be Compiled In Book

Adjutant R. P. Holcomb Has Blanks Required For Furnishing Data

Of special interest throughout the World War population of Alabama is the efforts now under way for the compilation of the war record and civil record since discharge of every person in the state that served the colors during the dark days of 1917-18. This information is to be recorded in a great volume and placed in the Department of Archives and History at Montgomery.

These historical records will prove of lasting benefit to the veterans as well as prove of untold advantage in compiling the history of the state, it is pointed out. As for the veterans, many have occasion at various times to refer to their war record in matters pertaining to claims and other government advantages and preferences. As for the state, no history can be written without a glorious chapter being penned concerning the part Alabama's soldiers, sailors, and marines played in the Great War. The book is to be a permanently bound volume and will contain only those names that are obtained during the current year through the efforts of the American Legion, Department of Alabama.

Each veteran should sketch briefly the following desired information and immediately take it to Robert Holcomb, adjutant of the Hendrick-Hudson Post, American Legion, where it will be properly inscribed on blanks provided and forwarded to those in charge of this gigantic undertaking: Full name and present address, age, date of birth, and service serial num-

Better Babies Clubs Are Being Organized

Auburn, Ala.—Better babies for a better Alabama.

That is the theory of the Alabama Extension Service in beginning this year for the first time a Better Babies Program in Alabama.

Mildred Simon, nutrition specialist, said that 24 counties are organizing from one to three Better Babies clubs as a part of this program. In these clubs any mother who has a child under the age of six is eligible for membership. Children will be examined at least twice a year by competent health authorities and advice will be given for any needed corrections.

All demonstrations will be centered around the health of the mother and children and each mother will be given information on balanced diets and proper nutrition, clothing, child development and training, and preservation of foods for the children.

To promote this new project women workers of the state extension staff and home demonstration agents are cooperating in the organization of the Better Babies clubs, Miss Simon said.

The only trouble with kudzu and lespedeza sericea as hay crops and erosion control plants is that they didn't come into use 50 years ago.

Cadetships Offered In Coast Guard

Information was received by The Times this week from Congressman Jarman in Washington that a competitive examination for appointment to cadetships in the United States Coast Guard will be held May 15 and 16, 1940. This examination is open to young men between the ages of 17 and 22 years. The mental requirements are in general those necessary for admission to colleges.

Graduation leads to a commission as Ensign and a very honorary career in the Coast Guard. The pay of a cadet while undergoing instruction is $780, plus an allowance for subsistence. The course of instruction is basically scientific and engineering in character. Both theoretical and practical seagoing experience is also offered.

A graduate of the United States Coast Guard Academy has an education and a profession well worth while, and young men who are eligible will find it beneficial to investigate further. It is suggested by the Congressman that boys who have entertained ambition to enter the Naval Academy, where the maximum age limit is lower, should be particularly interested in this opportunity.

Detailed requirements for entrance and pamphlet descriptive of the Academy and cadet activities will be sent upon request. Address the Commandant, U. S. Coast Guard, Washington, D. C., for further information.

BANG'S DISEASE PROGRESS

Practical eradication of Bang's disease from dairy breeding cattle in 209 counties in 17 states has been announced by the Department of Agriculture. The counties in Alabama officially listed as "modified accredited Bang's disease-free areas" are Autauga, Elmore, and Sumter.

College Night Plans Receive Final Touches

Due to Limited Seating Facilities Townspeople Invited to Attend Thursday Night Dress Rehearsal

With the principal problem being where to seat the hundreds who are writing in for tickets, the girls at Alabama College these days are putting the finishing touches on their annual College Night show which is being given Friday and Saturday evenings of this week.

As a warm-up for the big occasion, the Purples and Golds are staging a dress rehearsal Thursday night to which Montevallo townspeople are being admitted in order to make more room for the record-breaking number of parents, friends, sweethearts, and alumnae who are planning to attend. In the midst of their strenuous practice sessions, the usual high jinks prevail on the campus. The competitive temperature between the two traditional sides has reached a boiling point. Purple and gold signs are everywhere. The mere whisper of a "Yea, Gold" or "Yea, Purple" causes bedlam to break loose in dining halls or dormitories, and the noise spreads like grass fire across the campus from building to building. The idea of sleeping has been shelved by all concerned, as the sound of song practice in the auditorium or the clatter of hammers backstage and in the workshop continue into the wee small hours.

Beneath all the banter and light-hearted foolishness, both sides are in deadly earnest. No Gold thinks the Purples have a chance, and no Purple would give two cents for the Golds' hopes. The only thing sure—standing out from all the secrecy—is that it is going to be quite a show.

Miss Emily Pratt, leader of the Purples, and Miss Jean Letson, leader of the Golds, plan to put their cohorts through final rehearsals Thursday and Thursday night. Most of the stage scenery and costuming is complete, and dozens of girls are now nursing the mashed thumbs which came from too intimate contact with hammers held in unaccustomed feminine fingers.

Dr. H. W. James Visits Montevallo

Dr. H. W. James, president of State Teachers College, Silver City, New Mexico, spent a few days in Montevallo this week visiting with friends.

This is the first time Dr. James has been back to Montevallo since he left here four years ago to accept the presidency of the New Mexico college.

For several years he was head of the education department of Alabama College. While he lived here he took an active part in community leadership, serving as member of the Town Council, president of the Civic Club, and commander of the American Legion.

His many friends here were happy to see him again.

L. H. ELLIS CANDIDATE FOR CONVENTION DELEGATE

Hon. L. H. Ellis, widely known attorney and legislator, makes announcement this week of his candidacy for delegate to the National Democratic Convention from the Sixth Congressional District.

Mr. Ellis is eminently fitted for performing the duties of delegate and the people of Shelby County hope the other counties will fall in behind him with their support.

Mrs. H. T. Sinyard, Cullman County farm woman, helps to can more than 500 containers of meat for her family and others each year.

Mr. Francis Killingsworth of Auburn spent last week end at home.

W. D. Partlow Announces His Candidacy For Congress

W. D. "Billy" Partlow (above) announces this week his candidacy for Representative in Congress from the Sixth Alabama District.

Plans Are Made For A. E. A. Meeting

Montgomery, Ala.—Preparations for the annual convention of the Alabama Education Association, to be held in Birmingham, March 14-16, were completed this week as announced at the A. E. A. headquarters in Montgomery. The seven men and women scheduled to address the two general and four "area" sessions is the largest number of out-of-state speakers ever engaged for an annual meeting of the association and includes representatives from the fields of law, employer - employee relations, science and letters, as well as education.

Speaking on the general sessions are Sherman Rogers, Chicago, former editor of the Liberty Magazine and nationally known because of his work in the field of employer-employee relations; Ernesto Galarza, chief of the Division of Labor of the Pan American Union, Washington, D. C.; and Gerald Wendt, director of Science and Education of the New York World's Fair. Scheduled to address the four "area" sessions, composed of groups of teachers who are interested in one "area" of educational thought, are Caroline B. Zachry, consultant in mental hygiene for the Ethical Schools, New York; Judge Camille Kelley of Juvenile Court, Memphis; Malcolm S. MacLean, director of the General College, University of Minnesota; and George Stevens, editor of the Saturday Review of Literature, New York.

In addition to out-of-state speakers, the convention will hear addresses from Governor Frank M. Dixon, State Superintendent Albert H. Collins, and A. E. A. President Elbert B. Norton.

Supplementing the general and "area" sessions will be programs planned by about thirty departments of the association around a particular problem in school administration or in classroom teaching.

FOR LEGION MEMBERS ONLY

Adjutant R. P. Holcombe, of Hendrick-Hudson Post, calls our attention to the fact that the Legion Historical Record now being compiled is to include only those veterans who pay their 1940 Legion dues.

We pass this information on with the suggestion that any veteran may well afford to pay dues for this purpose alone, even if it were not for the many other advantages that go with Legion membership.

Pay your dues and get a blank from Mr. Holcomb and have your name put in the book that will be kept in the state museum at Montgomery.

Young Tuscaloosa Attorney Seeks To Represent Sixth District In Washington

W. D. "Billy" Partlow, Jr., widely known Tuscaloosa attorney, announced today his candidacy for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District.

A son of Dr. W. D. Partlow, superintendent of the Alabama Hospital for the Insane, Partlow has been active for many years as a leader in professional, civic and social affairs. He is married to the former Rosa Earle, daughter of the late P. H. Earle of Birmingham. They have two children.

At his home today, Partlow said of his candidacy:

"I become a candidate for Congress with full realization of the immense responsibility of the office. I am determined to win this race and to go to Washington as a representative who will fight with determination for those things which mean the welfare of our people."

Partlow enters a political career backed by a record of intense activity and competitive spirit.

He went on his own early in life, as a boy becoming a carrier for The Tuscaloosa News, and later working during vacations as a grocery delivery boy, carpenter's helper, sawmill laborer, with a cleaning and pressing plant, and at various other jobs.

While a student at the University of Alabama, Partlow won letters in varsity football and track, and found time for a wide diversity of campus activities. By popular vote of the students he was twice awarded important positions, being elected business manager of the yearbook and president of the Cotillion Club. Few students have left the University with membership in more honorary organizations.

Partlow was graduated from Alabama with degrees in Arts and Sciences and Law. Later he spent a year in post-graduate work at Harvard Law School. He was admitted to the bar in 1931 and since that time has practiced law in Tuscaloosa, for the past five years as a member of the firm of Partlow, LeMaistre and Clement.

He served for seven years as a member of the Alabama National Guard, retiring as second lieutenant in Company D, 167th Infantry. He now holds a captain's commission in the Officers Reserve Corps, of the Judge Advocate General's Department.

He is a member of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Partlow's civic interest is evidenced by outstanding successes in directing various community campaigns, among them drives for the Boy Scouts, Salvation Army, Tuscaloosa County Sportsmen's Club, the Tuscaloosa Horse Show, and other civic enterprises.

He is a member of the Board of Stewards of the First Methodist Church, and director in the Tuscaloosa Junior Chamber of Commerce, and holds membership in the Masons, Elks, Exchange Club, Tuscaloosa Country Club, and the Dollarhide Hunting and Fishing Club.

BUSINESS WOMEN COLLECTING MAGAZINES FOR PRISONS

The Business and Professional Women's Club is cooperating in the collection of magazines to be distributed to persons throughout the state. If all persons having old magazines for which they have no use will leave them at the Mahan Barber and Beauty Shop, they will be placed on the truck which makes regular collections of magazines for prisons. If you have magazines to donate but no way of getting them to town, call Miss Anne Eastman, president of the club, and the magazines will be called for.

Local Alumnae Are Invited To Attend Homecoming

Former students of Alabama College living in Montevallo are cordially invited to take part in the Homecoming program on the campus Saturday, February 24, which is as follows:

8:30-12—Registration in Reynolds Hall, and visits to the new buildings.

12:15 - 130 — Business meeting, Reynolds Auditorium. At this time, alumnae will vote for the new officers of the Alumnae Association and learn of the work of this organization for the past year.

1:30—Luncheon, Old Dining Hall. This luncheon will be free of charge to former students. Alumnae are asked to notify Frances Ribble, alumnae secretary, if they expect to attend.

4:30-5:30 — Open house in Reynolds Hall for faculty, alumnae, and other guests of the college.

New Dairy Business Started By Thomas

People in Montevallo and vicinity will be interested in the announcement made by Mr. J. P. Thomas this week that he has entered the dairy business. His seat of operations is at his place, "Fairhaven Farm," two miles north of Montevallo, on the Siluria Road.

Mr. Thomas, with his family, has lived at "Fairhaven" for the past three years. He is a native of this section—was born and reared near Ashby. For some time he has planned a dairy business on his farm. In view of these plans, he has raised and developed his own herd of Jersey cows with a definite purpose to carry out the business which he is now beginning.

"We are qualified under regulations of the Public Health Department to dispense Grade A raw milk," he says. "We will make deliveries daily throughout the Montevallo vicinity, furnishing sweet milk, butter milk, and cream. Our facilities are modern and ample and we guarantee you the kind of products and service you have a right to expect from your dairy."

Mr. Thomas invites the public to visit "Fairhaven Farm" and personally inspect his dairy facilities. He will appreciate an opportunity to serve you.

P. T. A. Celebrates Founders Day

The Montevallo P. T. A. met Tuesday afternoon at the Elementary School auditorium to celebrate Founders Day. The meeting was dedicated to the memory of Miss Mary England, who was for several years active in P. T. A. work in Alabama and the nation.

The Junior II dramatics class gave a beautiful candlelighting pageant using rainbow candles, each color representing the different goals of the P. T. A.—health, learning, achievement, leisure, good will, homes, and character.

Mrs. Tidwell, acting program chairman, introduced Dr. Harman, who, for all too short a time, made Miss Mary England live again for all who had ever been fortunate enough to have met and hear her speak.

Mrs. Frost read a message from Mrs. Pittingill, the present state president.

CALERA MAN HURT IN CRASH

Sam Bentley, Calera, was injured seriously Friday night when the automobile he was driving crashed into a railroad bridge at Calera. Mr. Bentley, 26, was taken to the Baptist Hospital, Birmingham.

Patrolman Gene Curtis reported Bentley suffered severe head and internal injuries.

Good Program Is Feature Of Get-Together

Bad Weather Again Limits The Attendance at Montevallo's Community Party

The community party at the Montevallo High School Saturday night was marked by an excellent program of interesting variety, despite the bad weather which interfered with attendance of people from nearby communities.

The little folks were entertained in the "story room" while the older ones either witnessed or took part in the main program.

Mrs. Josephine Waller, of the high school music department, led the group singing which everyone joined in heartily and enthusiastically. The numbers included Onward Christian Soldiers, Old Black Joe, Carry Me Back to Old Virginia, Old McDonald Had a Farm, When You and I Were Young, Maggie, and America.

Mrs. Waller did a fine job of leadership, proving that her exceptional ability just naturally draws an audience into spirited expression in song.

James Fitts, of Dogwood, rendered a couple of guitar solos. Very good. Everybody liked it.

Mr. Russell Harris was there again with his Dogwood quartet, composed of himself, Miss Freda Blake, James Fitts, and Ed Price, Jr. They sang three selections which contributed greatly to the interest of the program.

Harvey Lee Riffe, of Aldrich sang two sacred songs, "Leaning on the Everlasting Arm" and "Nothing Between." Harvey Lee puts his whole soul into his songs and he does them in a manner that is most appealing.

Earle Erwin, of Calera, playing his accordion, drew repeated encores from the audience. With all due regard for the contributions of every performer, we feel we might say that Earle "capped the climax."

An interesting feature of this meeting was the "drawing" of prizes. Everyone in the audience was given a little piece of paper with a number on it. Duplicate numbers were placed in a hat. Laurie Ann Orr drew them out. Holder of the lucky number in the audience was given the pick of a group of prize packages, until seven people had picked off the seven prizes. This drawing promises to be a regular feature of future meetings in this series.

Edmund Pendleton presented his talking picture show as the concluding number on the program.

There will be another one of these meetings in about three weeks. Everyone hopes that we may get a break on the weather next time.

Inzer Reid Enters Auto Business

Mr. Inzer Reid has accepted a position as salesman with Drennen Motor Co., of Birmingham, and is working this territory out of the Bessemer branch.

Mr. Reid would like an opportunity to talk business to anyone who may be interested in buying a new car — Chevrolet, Buick, LaSalle, or Cadillac. "And, of course," he says, "if you are interested in any kind of used car or truck, Drennen offers the biggest stock of them in this territory."

While he is working out of Bessemer Mr. Reid will continue his residence in Montevallo and will give particular attention to prospects in this territory.

Alabama farmers will be taking a forward step if they start a small acreage of kudzu this year. Triple-A payments are $6 per acre for setting kudzu crowns.

SOCIAL LIFE IN OUR TOWN

"Social Life in Our Town" was the subject discussed by the Business and Professional Women at their meeting on Monday evening, February 19, under the leadership of Mrs. Bessie Merle Elliott, program chairman for the meeting.

Some interesting statistics on social activities in the town were presented by Mrs. S. M. Mahan. Most of the social activity of the town, according to Mrs. Mahan, is centered in organizations and the women of the town are better provided for than the men. There are in all ten active clubs, eight of which are for women and two for men. The young people, according to the report, have few social activities, although the Scout organizations and the schools are furnishing some recreation for a limited number. The churches make a considerable contribution to the social life of the town, but their efforts are directed toward college students and adults to a greater extent than toward the group below college age.

A small number of town people enjoy the various social and cultural events of the college which are open to the public, but the Strand Theatre seems to be the thing most generally relied upon by people of all ages for entertainment.

Miss Joyce Kellogg spoke of the social life of the college. Social affairs on the campus were represented as taking the form of receptions, formal and informal dinners, student dances, plays, concerts, sports, artist course numbers, lectures, and similar events. The conversion of Reynolds Hall into a Union Building and the recent appointment of a faculty recreation committee give promise of increased social activity.

An outstanding feature of the program was the special music very graciously furnished by two young women from the college. Miss Marion Hughes sang a delightful group of songs, and was very ably accompanied by Miss Margaret McAllister.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Youth Sunday will be observed at the Presbyterian Church next Sunday. Members of the Presbyterian Student Association will be in charge of the program. The general theme will be "If I Follow Him." Miss Marguerite Denny, president of the P. S. A., will preside. Others taking part on the program are Miss Carolyn Norris, Miss Carolyn Raborn, Miss Sara Rumbley, and Miss Margaret Flory, one of the faculty advisers.

A special program on the Psalms will be given at the Vespers meeting at 7 o'clock.

PLAN AND PLANT FOR CHRISTMAS

You can plant now for Christmas decorating materials, advises Homer S. Fisher, extension landscape gardener, who says there are a number of plants that can be planted around the home grounds to provide materials suitable for Christmas decorations.

Among the plants which he lists are: Yulan Firethorn (red fruit), Nandina (red fruit), Spreading Euonymus (orange fruit), Yaupon (red fruit), American Holly (red fruit), Bronze Elaeagnus (orange fruit and good foliage), and Glossy and Japanese Privets (black berries and good foliage).

Through its better babies, better homes campaign, and nutrition education, the home demonstration staff of the State Extension Service is trying to get at the root of a lot of the troubles of Alabama farm families.

The Homes of These People Are On The Way To Being

COMPLETELY ELECTRIFIED

PEOPLE in many walks of life—some in modest circumstances, some well-to-do—have either already completely electrified their homes, or are on the way to complete electrification by the "step by step" plan.

Most of them started with the electric refrigerator or washing machine—their next steps were the electric range, then the ironer, electric water heater and electric dishwasher. Most of them, because electricity is cheap in Alabama—and because the average rate becomes lower as the use of electricity increases—find their bills for electric service less than they expected them to be. They find that electrical appliances do have the labor- and time-saving qualities claimed for them!

We have a corps of men and women whose duties are to visit our customers and discuss with them their use of electric service, so that they may enjoy the most benefits at the least cost. In future advertisements we will tell you something about the service they can offer you.

Purebred Livestock Association Is Organized In County

The agricultural income of Shelby County must be increased by additional use of livestock on the farm. Before this can be done we must have increased feed production and better livestock. Breeding and feeding must go hand-in-hand if livestock is to supplement cotton. We believe that purebred sires are the only practical method of improving livestock on Shelby County farms.

At a recent meeting of the purebred sire owners of the county, the Shelby County Purebred Sire Association was organized. Uniform service fees were agreed upon and other regulations were drawn up to assist in increasing the quality of livestock. In order that you may participate in this worthwhile movement which is being promoted by the leading livestock producers of the county, we are including herewith a list of purebred sire owners for your information.

It is our hope that you will use these animals located in your community to the fullest extent during the coming year.

An experiment conducted at the Iowa Experiment Station shows that breeding grade or scrub cows to purebred bulls results in an increase in production by each generation. Twenty-five scrub cows were purchased in Arkansas and transferred to Iowa where they were milked for one year. Records were kept on each animal. They produced on an average of 4,110 pounds of milk and 192 pounds of butterfat. Under the same care and out of purebred bulls their daughters produced 5,815 pounds of milk and 207 pounds of butterfat, or an increase of 96 per cent in milk.

Officers and a board of directors were elected to serve the association for 1940. They were as follows:

President, W. J. Bailey, Montevallo; Vice-President: J. M. Lowe, Vincent; Secretary, W. M. Clark, Columbiana.

Board of Directors: M. G. Roy, Siluria; Ned Bearden, Helena; Morgan Denson, Helena; Boss Sheets, Helena; Roland Lester, Chelsea; Solon E. McGraw, Vincent; Leonard Wyatt, Vincent; E. E. Wallis, Vincent; Howard Reinhardt, Wilsonville; H. E. Archer, Westover; J. L. Roper, Wilsonville; J. M. Lyons, Columbiana; Orin Pearson, Shelby; Pierce Garrett, Calera; J. F. Baker, Montevallo; S. M. Tatum, Siluria; W. M. Bearden, Sterrett; W. E. Kirkpatrick, Underwood; R. F. Walters, Pelham; A. M. Muncey, Wilsonville.

The schedule of service fees were set for the different animals as follows: Bulls, $1.50; boars, $1.00; stallions, $10.00; Jack, $10.00.

If there are other purebred sires in your community, please notify us so that we may inspect these animals and approve them so that they may appear on our next list. —W. M. Clark.

HOME OF W. H. MOORE BURNED SATURDAY NIGHT

The home of Mr. W. H. Moore, located on the plantation of Miss Mary Sue Moore, five miles south of Montevallo, was destroyed by fire last Saturday about midnight.

Before the fire was discovered it had spread over the house making it impossible to save any of the contents. The family lost everything they had. Mr. Moore was slightly burned.

Parent Interest Is Girl Scout Aim

Closer cooperation between Girl Scouts and their parents will be one of the major goals of local councils throughout the country during the next two years.

Parents can give a great deal to the movement and can get a great deal in return. Fathers and mothers who understand the reasons behind their daughter's activities will lend even greater support to Girl Scouting than they do now.

There are many Scout activities requiring the cooperation of parents such as homeking. This is still the favorite Girl Scout activity. It has requirements such as cooking and serving luncheon; putting up a shelf; knowing how to operate house heating devices.

If parents undertake what we are trying to accomplish through such projects they probably will become as enthusiastic about Girl Scouting as its present 550,000 members are this minute. —National Girl Scout News.

Army Recruiting Office Is Opened At Opelika

Opelika, Ala.—The United States Army has established a regular recruiting office here in the Palmer Hall building, to serve young men of this region, it was announced by Colonel F. A. Prince, commander of all recruiting stations in Alabama and Tennessee, with headquarters in the Post Office Building at Montgomery. Staff Sergeant Paul L. Dever has been placed in charge of the local recruiting office, and stated that many rare and interesting vacancies were available for young men between 18 and 35, including a number for the famous First Division, a streamlined and motorized division, several thousand strong, now temporarily stationed at Fort Benning. This crack division of the regular army is permanently stationed at army posts in New York and New Jersey, and is scheduled to return to its eastern garrisons this spring, he said.

Staff Sergeant Dever stated that vacancies were also available at the local office for ex-soldiers in all branches of the Regular Army Reserve, the newly created reserve force that is available for active duty only in the event of a directed emergency by the president. Members are paid an enlistment allowance of $8.00 every four months during inactive service through out the four-year term of the reserve enlistment. Membership in this patriotic reserve is restricted to ex-soldiers now less than 36 years old, who served continuously for one year or more in the regular army, terminated by an honorable discharge. Enlistment in this "Modern Minute Man" reserve are being accomplished at the local office within an hour, provided the ex-soldier brings along his last honorable discharge certificate.

GIRL SCOUTS

Troop 3 met at the Little House Friday. Several songs were sung and games played. Miss Betty LeBaron told the Scouts how to get the Hostess Badge. The second class scouters are Mildred Wooten, Betty Pendleton, Margaret Kennerly, Bertha McGibboney, Katherine Bridges, Una Faye Davis, and Marjorie Shores. Others present were Carolyn Shores, Alice Creel, Betty Graylee, Doris Ann Clemmons, Sue Chamblee, Mary Sue McLain, Betty Jo McLain, and Betty Gaddy.

Before adjourning the court of honor was held. Any girls who have a uniform they are not using please let Mrs. Vaughan know. The Girl Scouts would like for the public to know how much we appreciate the piano.

The meeting time for Troop 3 has been changed from Friday to Thursday and will now meet regularly on Thursdays. — Marjorie Shores, Scribe.

Dr. Pearson Reports On Finnish Fund

Great interest is being shown throughout the United States in the campaign to raise money for the relief of the suffering Finns. The valor of the Finnish soldiers has called forth the admiration of the world. The intense suffering of the Finnish people has touched deeply the springs of human sympathy everywhere. But sympathy that does not go beyond sentiment is worthless. It is only the sympathy that becomes tangible and visible that is worthwhile.

The call has come to the people of Montevallo to give expression to their noble sentiments by making a worthy contribution to the Finnish Relief Fund. Some have sent contributions to Birmingham already. Many have expressed their intention to give. Dr. Pearson, the local chairman for the fund reports the following gifts:

Anonymous $10
Mrs. E. G. Givhan 5

All organizations are urged to present the appeal in whatever way it seems best. Individuals who desire to make contributions are urged to turn them in to Dr. Pearson or Mr. Wyatt, or to deposit them to the fund at the bank and report them.

To the Voters of the Sixth Congressional District

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District of Alabama subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

It is my belief that by the application of true democratic processes the problems confronting the South and the Sixth District can and will be worked out on a basis of honesty, fair treatment and equal opportunity for all.

To insure the prosperity of this District it is necessary that we fight to guarantee to the farmer a fair return for his products and to the laboring man a fair wage for his hours of work. Our national welfare requires peace, commerce and honest friendship with all nations—entangling alliances with none.

The surest protection for our democratic form of government against the insidious onslaught of foreign isms is the education, both general and vocational, of our youth. To this end I believe that part of the money paid as taxes in this country should be returned to the people from whence it came in the form of outright grants to the states in federal aid to education.

My political concept is the simple one of real democracy. I want to see the greatest good for the greatest number.

I offer myself to this District as an energetic worker. I pledge my full vigor, my every fiber of energy, all the capabilities I possess, to the end that this district shall be properly represented in Washington.

I earnestly solicit your vote and influence

Dunn To Visit Beer Retailers Over State

Montgomery, Ala.—Plans for an extensive state-wide tour to carry the message of self-regulation direct to owners of Alabama's 1,600 retail beer outlets were outlined before Montgomery's Civitan Club by David E. Dunn, state director of the Brewers and Alabama Beer Distributors Committee.

"We hope to carry our story and our appeal for improved conditions direct to the retailer," Mr. Dunn told the Civitans at their weekly luncheon meeting. "Through this direct contact method I believe much good will be accomplished in our drive to 'clean up or close up' the flagrant law violators who form a minority of Alabama establishments."

"We have two primary points to stress to the retailer—that he must obey the rules and regulations of Alabama's ABC Board, and he must live within the laws of public decency laid down under the beer industry's program of self-regulation."

"The great majority of the retail outlets abide by both these laws, and have been a major factor in making our work a success here in Alabama. Like the brewer and the wholesaler, these men recognize their duty to the public, and are putting their shoulders to the wheel to place beer on the permanent and wholesome basis we feel it deserves."

Mr. Dunn reviewed the spread of the self-regulation program over the nation and said that Alabama's border counties would receive a direct benefit from the installation of the campaign in Mississippi, Tennessee, and Georgia.

Mr. Dunn, who spoke last week at the organization meeting of the Georgia committee, said that speaker after speaker there pointed to Alabama as an example of the achievements that can be obtained under the industry's program.

Farm Income Drops During Year

Auburn, Ala.—Alabama farm income dropped in 1939 to the lowest level in the past five years and the total income from crops, livestock, and government payments was $112,170,000, or $410 per farm, John L. Liles, Jr., extension service economist at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, said today.

Liles said the income from marketing crops and livestock was $84,911,000 or $310 per farm and government payments were $27,259,000 or an average of $100 per farm. Income from crops and livestock was 18.4 per cent less than in 1938, but the increase in payments brought total income to the point where the decline under 1938 was only 9.3 per cent.

"Government AAA payments of $100 per farm earned by farmers for adopting soil building practices and reducing the acreage of cotton and other depleting crops was high in 1939 as compared to 1937, when they averaged $37 per farm, and to 1935, when they averaged $60 per farm," the economist pointed out.

Liles attributed the low income of the state's farmers largely to low yields caused by adverse weather. As a whole, he said, prices were favorable, but the volume of products going to market was materially reduced.

SOCIOLOGIST VISITS CAMPUS

Miss Gertrude Springer, staff member of Graphic Survey Magazine, visited the Sociology Department Monday, February 19. She was accompanied by Miss Doris Bender, a field representative of the State Department of Public Welfare. A conference was held with Miss Springer and the Junior and Senior students in Social Work.

Mrs. Margaret H. Walburn, County Director of Public Welfare, attended the conference, accompanied by Miss Pope Byrd, special children's worker, Miss Jeanette Niven and Miss Nell Jones, county visitors from the Department of Public Welfare, Columbiana.

Two-thirds of an acre planted in turnips in August brought Mrs. Tom Herndon of Salem, Greene County, a profit of $120 besides using many for the family dining table.

Fuller Is Candidate For Convention Delegate

Mr. Nelson O. Fuller of Centreville, young lawyer and member of the State Democratic Executive Committee, announced in the Tuscaloosa News Sunday that he would be a candidate for delegate to the Democratic National Convention from the Sixth District. "Of course, I am for Speaker Bankhead," said Mr. Fuller in announcing.

Mr. Fuller is solicitor for Bibb County, as well as a trustee of Alabama College. His father, the late Jerome Fuller, was long a power in Alabama politics, having served as delegate-at-large to the Chicago convention of 1932 which nominated Roosevelt. He also managed several important state-wide campaigns and was a leading member of the State Democratic Executive Committee for years. Upon his death, Nelson Fuller was chosen as his successor on this committee, being reelected two years ago on an anti-handpicking ticket. — Centreville Press.

Patrons Demand Consolidation Of Rural Schools

Montgomery, Ala. — Alabama white schools have been consolidated during the past ten years at the rate of 70 one-teacher schools and 50 two-teacher schools per year, according to a statement released today by A. R. Meadows, supervisor of school surveys, State Department of Education. This phenomenal development in school consolidation, Dr. Meadows said, is due to the insistent demand of parents for better school programs for their children.

Dr. Meadows referred to the following examples as illustrating this demand for larger schools:

"In Geneva County, parents objected to withdrawing their children from larger schools and sending them to small schools which provided three teachers per school within walking distance of pupils involved.

"In Cherokee County, representatives of nine school communities held a public meeting and requested approval to consolidate into one center, whereas, three centers had been recommended several years before. Fifty-six community representatives attended this meeting."

Dr. Meadows also referred to recent school surveys which clearly show that parents of their own volition have insisted that boards of education allow their children to be transported by three-teacher schools and smaller schools in order to attend schools having a teacher per grade, wherever the smaller schools are within six or seven miles of a larger school center.

These school surveys, he said, also show that small schools have been consolidated into larger schools and that the total cost of the larger schools, including the cost of transportation, is less on a per pupil basis than in the smaller schools. For example, Covington County consolidated 63 school centers into 23 school centers over a ten-year period and reduced its current expenses per pupil in average daily attendance from $43.01 to $37.53 and the cost per day from 27.6 cents to 25.4 cents.

Wallace Announces Cotton Stamp Plan

Auburn, Ala.—A stamp program for distributing cotton goods to relief families through the normal channels of trade will be put into operation on an experimental basis within six weeks, announces Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace. The announcement followed a series of recent meetings in which farm leaders and trade groups interested in the surplus cotton problem unanimously endorsed the plan.

In making the announcement, Secretary Wallace said, "The cotton stamp plan will supplement the other programs of the department which are designed to assist in solving the cotton problem. Under existing programs direct income for the cotton farmer has been maintained at a much higher level than otherwise would be the case. Now through the cotton stamp plan, which utilizes private business channels, it is hoped that more cotton goods and clothing can be made available to needy families."

"In addition to broadening farmers' markets for cotton, providing badly needed cotton goods and clothing for relief families, and stimulating business by increasing the movement of cotton goods through normal trade channels, the program has an important employment feature. As a result of the operations of the cotton stamp plan, jobs will be made available in our cotton mills, in our garment factories, on our railroads, and to some extent in our retail stores for those who would otherwise be unemployed."

In the bedroom of the home is one of the best markets for cotton with mattress, ticking, curtains, sheets, quilts, and spreads to be supplied, says H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas Extension Service.

Mrs. Sallie Lathan is sick in bed at her home.

MATTRESSES TAKE 5,866 BALES OF COTTON

Auburn, Ala. — Elna McGaugh, state home demonstration agent, said this week that 58,669 all-cotton homemade mattresses were made by farm families living in seven southern states in 1939. The states are Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas, and Alabama.

"As a result of this work, 5,866 bales of cotton were used," she said. "If we place a low value of $10.50 on each of these, we see that farm families conducted a $586,690 mattress making business in 1939."

HIGH SCHOOL TOURNAMENT

Auburn, Ala. — Some 500 high school students from all sections of Alabama are expected in Auburn on March 7-9 for the annual High School Tournament sponsored by the department of English.

The 21 contests will be held in Aeronautics, art, biology, books, chemistry, drama, foreign languages, history, industrial arts, journalism, Latin, mathematics, mechanical drawing, music, physics, public speaking, science, spelling, typewriting, and writing.

Among out-of-town visitors here to attend the Poldi Mildner piano concere last week at the college was Mr. Alfred Vogel, head of the music department of the University of Alabama.

M. J. Funchess, director of the Alabama Experiment Station and head of Auburn's Agricultural School, says farmers could get a great deal more good from peanuts if they were grown in proper rotations to build up land instead of continuously depleting it.

Alabama has three soil conservation districts already set up under the Soil Conservation Districts Law passed in 1939. Hearings are being held and elections planned to add other counties into districts to coordinate all soil conservation work under farmer supervisors.

Paul Siple, the Boy Scout selected to accompany the Byrd expedition to the South Pole in 1928, is commander of the West Base with current expedition commanded by Admiral Byrd for further expedition.

OUT OF STEP

The soldier out of step discredits the orderly marching of his squad and leaves the impression that every man lacks training and discipline.

In Alabama a small minority of retail beer outlets flaunts the law and gives the same impression, bringing criticism down upon a legitimate industry which is working hand in hand with Alabama's ABC Board to eliminate these undesirable outlets.

Through revocation and suspension of license, the ABC Board and the beer industry are proving their determination that this minority must keep step and meet its public responsibility.

Local Churches Place Emphasis On Religion

Religious Life To Be Stressed At Services During Months Of March and April

With the pastors of three churches taking the lead, the community of Montevallo will place special emphasis upon religious life, church affiliation and spiritual activity during the months of March and April.

A letter signed by Rev. Fred B. Pearson, Rev. John M. Shores, and Rev. Thomas M. Davis has been sent to all residents of the town, seeking to arouse us all to "active cooperation in the Christian life of Montevallo."

We quote the statement of the pastors:

"This letter comes to you from the hearts of the ministers of Montevallo because we are interested in the personal religious life of the people of this community. We are here to serve you and hope that you will feel free to call on us at any time. Recognizing the part the church plays in the life of a community, we feel that we can serve you best through that channel. For that reason we sincerely hope that you are already taking your place or will take your place in the church of your choice. It not only helps you very definitely, but gives you a channel through which to serve.

"Through March and April we are making a special emphasis and feel sure you will want to make this period of great spiritual value to yourself and to the community by your attendance and prayers. You will be given a calendar carrying the sermon topics to be used in each of our churches. When you find it impossible to attend one of the services, won't you remember it in your prayers?

"The churches of this community have a responsibility not only for the lives of those who make their homes here, but for those who come from other communities. That makes it of special importance for us to give them a wholesome Christian influence that will direct their lives in the years to come.

"Thanking you for your active cooperation in the Christian life of Montevallo, we are, Your servants in Christ—Fred B. Pearson, John M. Shores, Thomas M. Davis."

Cage Tournament Scheduled At Siluria

According to information received from Mr. Fred F. Phillips, the Buck Creek Club of Siluria is sponsoring a county-wide basketball tournament on March 1 and 2 to determine the local championship.

"There will be three beautiful trophies and 57 individual player awards," Mr. Phillips says.

Entries may be made until 10 a.m., Friday, March 1.

Everybody who can get to Siluria is urged to attend this event.

"The tournament will be held at our indoor basketball building, is sponsored by the Y. M. C. A., and is not a money-making scheme, but a sincere attempt to have a real tournament for mutual enjoyment of all participants," concludes the statement of Mr. Phillips.

MR. WALTON ORR

Mr. Walton Orr, prominent business man of Union Springs, died last Wednesday at the Veterans Hospital in Tuscaloosa.

Burial was at Union Springs the following day. He is survived by his wife and two children.

Mr. Orr as a brother of Dr. M. L. Orr. He was in charge of the Standard Oil business in the Union Springs territory.

Four Candidates Enter Race For Sixth District Congressional Post

EMMETT HILDRETH

Emmett Hildreth Enters Race In Sixth District

State Senator Emmett Hildreth, of Eutaw, for 19 years a prominent attorney in West Alabama, a member of the State Senate for three terms, and a leader in Alabama Democratic Party circles for years, Saturday formally announced his candidacy for representative in the United States Congress from the Sixth District.

He is the third candidate to qualify for this office, which is now held by Rep. Pete Jarman, of Livingston. Others already in the field are William D. Partlow, Jr., and Thomas H. Maxwell, of Tuscaloosa.

Served on Code Committee

Senator Hildreth, in formally announcing his candidacy, declared that he has withheld his announcement until today in order to continue service on the Legislature's Joint Code Committee until the work of that committee had been substantially completed.

Recently he conferred with Governor Dixon in Montgomery and with members of the committee. He has received a leave of absence without pay, and will immediately wage an "active, aggressive campaign, fully informing the people of all the issues and discussing with them the needs of the district," he said.

Mr. Hildreth said that "it is my earnest hope to avoid all personalities and petty bickerings, and I shall endeavor at all times to wage my campaign upon a high level in keeping with the dignity and importance of the office I seek."

Political Veteran

The Eutaw Senator is a veteran in the state political field, and has represented his city, county, district and state in high public positions of trust. He is 46 years old, and a native of Enterprise, Coffee County, where he was born December 19, 1894.

He received his A. B. degree from the University of Virginia in 1917, then volunteered for duty in the United States Army, seeing service in France with the American Expeditionary Service. He took graduate college work in the Sorbonne, (Continued on back page)

BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

A "Gold Medal Basketball Tournament" will be held in Calera on March 8 and 9. This promises to be one of the best tournaments ever held there. Mitchell Dam, Calera, Siluria, Thorsby, Jemison and many other first class teams have entered. Sixty-three medals will be given away.

Pete Jarman Seeks Third Term In U. S. Congress

Congressman Pete Jarman this week announces that he is a candidate for re-election as representative of the Sixth District in the Congress of the United States. Mr. Jarman is now serving his second term in this office. His announcement for the third term says:

"I wish to continue representing you in Congress. I pledge a continuation of my best efforts to serve my district, my party and my nation well. I want your vote, your influence, your friendship and your cooperation—and I thank you."

Mr. Jarman was first elected to Congress in 1936. Prior to that he had become noted as one of the most able and promising young men in the public life of Alabama. Public service is a natural trait with him. He was literally born into it. His father was for 29 years Probate Judge of Sumter County. It was in his father's office that Pete had his first public service as chief clerk from 1913 to 1917, after graduating at the University of Alabama.

During the World War he served from May, 1917, to September, 1919, in the United States Army as an officer of infantry with rank of First Lieutenant. He took part in the battles of St. Mihiel and the Argonne, and was slightly wounded in the latter.

Returning from France and his army career, Jarman entered a broader field of public service, serving successively as state examiner of public accounts under Governor Kilby, Brandon and Graves. In 1930 he was elected Secretary of State, which office he held four years.

For a long time he served as a member of the State Democratic

PETE JARMAN

Executive Committee from the Sixth District.

In 1935 he married Miss Beryl Bricken, daughter of Judge Charles R. Bricken, of the Alabama Court of Appeals. Membership and active affiliation in fraternal and service organizations has further marked the career of Mr. Jarman. He is a member of the Methodist church, the American Legion, Forty and Eight, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Military Order of the World War, Maccabees, Masons, Kiwanis and Purple Heart.

In the American Legion Congressman Jarman has had a career of usefulness and good works that rivals his record as a public servant to the people of Alabama. He was elected first commander of Sumter County Post before he got home from France in 1919. He was elected Department Commander of the Legion in Alabama in 1927 and went to the National Convention in Paris, (Continued on back page)

Twenty-Second Annual College Night Is Presented To Capacity Audiences

Janitors cleaning up a littered auditorium and a thousand girls and their visitors sleeping the sleep of the righteous were the only indications Sunday morning that Alabama College had just experienced its 22nd College Night celebration. The Golds won, but each side put on a great show.

Despite inclement weather Saturday, the customary capacity audiences from all over the state jammed Palmer Hall for both performances. President A. F. Harman made a short address before the curtain went up in which he re-toast, Celia Methvin, president of the Student Government, called attention to the magnetic and human qualities which have distinguished Miss Brooke in her long service with the College.

Stunts Are Clever Satires

In their stunt, the Purples brought to life many world figures—Mussolini, Hitler, Stalin, Chamberlain—whom they lampooned with telling satire. The Gold stunt was a classic parody on the cosmetics business, the scene being laid in Princess Pat's court.

In their impersonation, the Purples used the story behind Sr. Walter Scott's "Eve of St. John," while the Golds presented a moving re-enactment of the familiar Dante and Beatrice romance, drawn from Max Reinhardt's "The Miracle."

Stage properties and costumes were brilliantly and cleverly executed, and the song writers showed ingenuity unusual among student groups.

Homecoming

Swelling the week-end crowds were nearly 500 alumnae who came back for College Night. Many of them remained for the Homecoming luncheon on Saturday. At an executive meeting of the Alumnae Association after the luncheon, the following new officers were installed: Mrs. Otto Zerwick, Gadsden, president; Mrs. S. R. Gibbons, Birmingham, vice-president; Miss Frances Ribble, Montevallo, secretary; Miss Ethel Harris, Montevallo, treasurer.

U. of A. Band To Present Concert Here

High School Sponsors Program By "Million Dollar Band" Here Next Saturday

The University of Alabama's "Million Dollar Band" will present a concert for high school and college students and town people of Montevallo next Saturday night, March 2, in Palmer Hall. This well-known musical organization, famed for its impressive marching technique as well as its excellent music, is under the direction of Mr. Carleton K. Butler.

The concert is under the sponsorship of the Montevallo High School Band and all proceeds, over and above the production expenses, will be used to buy uniforms for the local band. Band members are selling tickets at twenty-five cents for adults and fifteen cents for school children.

Mr. York Kildea, conductor of the Montevallo High School Band, makes the following statement in regard to the concert:

"It is with pleasure that the High School Band is able to present the University Band. The concert which this band presented two years ago was of the highest quality and we are assured that they are offering an equally fine program this year."

The concert program will be found elsewhere in this paper in a special dispatch from the University of Alabama.

Physio-Therapists To Practice Here

Dr. G. H. Wood and Dr. F. J. Westbrook, of Birmingham, have arranged for a location in the St. George Hotel where they will practice their profession of physiotherapy. They will be at the hotel Thursday of this week ready to receive patients. Each week hereafter they will be here on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

These gentlemen were in town Tuesday of this week making arrangements for their location, license, and other details incident to beginning their practice.

Dr. Wood is already well known to a number of people here who have received treatment from him during the past year. His associate, Dr. Westbrook has also practiced physiotherapy for several years. The office of Dr. Wood in Birmingham is in the Munger Building at Five Points.

SHELBY COUNTY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION MEETS

The Shelby County Medical Association held its regular meeting with the president, Dr. Kenneth Gould, at the Shelby Clinic, Wilsonville, Tuesday evening, February 13.

The members and invited guests were entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Gould at a Valentine buffet supper at their pleasant home.

After inspection of Dr. Gould's new, up-to-date, well equipped hospital, the 13 members and three visiting physicians listened to an interesting paper by Dr. Paul S. Woodall, of Birmingham, followed by a reel of films shown by Dr. Gould. The paper was discussed by Doctors Acker, Reid, Eversole, and others.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

To My Friends and Constituents

In announcing for Congress four years ago, I said: "Having been affiliated with the public life, first of my county and later of my state, throughout my life, I like to think of myself as a public servant. To serve my fellow Alabamians, my Party and my Nation to the best of my ability has ever been my keen desire." Three years service in this broader field, during which I have worked more diligently and longer hours than ever before, has not changed this attitude one particle. I now ask you to let me continue representing you in Washington.

This campaign will be waged on the usual high plane. Having run originally on my previous record, just as all neophytes must, I shall again base my candidacy on that record and on what it has been my privilege to do as your Congressman. Though I have not invariably pleased everyone, which is impossible for a conscientious, straightforward public official who does his own thinking in a constant effort to render the maximum service, no one can truthfully say that I have not dealt fairly with him or her, that I have been a dodger, a trimmer, a demagogue, or that I have indulged in promiscuous or unfulfilled promises.

My previous experience in public service caused me to realize the inadvisability of a freshman attempting to take charge, thereby forever preventing the wielding of the great influence I expect to sometimes enjoy in Congress. When I succeeded in accomplishing so much more in a short while than the average Congressman does in years, this realization was more forcefully impressed upon me, and I have been governed accordingly.

I invite your careful scrutiny of my record. While there is naturally a difference of opinion on the part of thinking people, I do so in the firm conviction that a thorough analysis of it will cause all unbiased citizens of our District to share the pride I naturally feel in it.

It has been my privilege, pleasure and honor to diligently serve you to the best of my ability, bringing to our District the credit and consideration it deserves. I hope and believe you will desire a continuation of such service. Seniority is more valuable in the House of Representatives than anywhere else in the world, even though it was my good fortune to overcome the lack of it in committee assignments. Four years is not long, as time goes, but I believe you will agree that our District can ill afford to lose those years of seniority and the prestige it enjoys from these assignments, particularly during these trying times of international unrest.

Unfortunately for one who enjoys mingling with his friends as I do, the Congress has been in session so well nigh constantly, during twenty-nine of the thirty-eight months, that little time has been available for this purpose. However, I have moved my office to the District each year that I and my entire personnel might be in closer touch with you. Congress will doubtless remain in session for several months which will probably deny me the pleasure of seeing many of you. While I shall spend as much time as possible in the District, I hope that those of you whom I fail to see will realize that it is only the performance of my duties in your behalf which prevents my doing so, and that this realization will cause you to substitute for the constant activity in which the performance of these duties will prevent me indulging your keen interest and industry. Your efforts for me will be deeply appreciated. Let us take nothing for granted. I want, not only your vote, but your active, energetic influence that I may continue to regard your affairs in the Nation's Capitol as an avowed public trust and to serve you all—low and high, poor and rich—to the very best of my ability without fear or favor.

Montevallo Coal Mines Trace History To Old Days of Few Modern Methods

The Montevallo Coal Mines at Aldrich, located two miles from Montevallo, and now in their 84th year of operation, produce coal noted for its long-burning quality and is probably the best and most widely known domestic coal in the South.

During the past two years new and modern equipment was installed at an expense involving several thousands of dollars, in order to insure the proper preparation of this outstanding coal. One of the most modern tipples plants, with coal washing facilities, is now in use, this plant being considered second to none in the bituminous coal fields. Extreme care is exercised in the preparation of the four sizes marketed; namely, fancy lump, domestic egg, domestic washed nut, and washed stoker and steam coal.

Modern methods are also used in the under-ground work, the mine being equipped with coal face conveyors, electric haulage, and other up-to-date equipment.

Several hundred dealers are now handling Montevallo coal, dealers being located in Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, Florida, Tennessee, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, and South Carolina.

Montevallo coal was the first coal mined and shipped to market by rail. It was also the first coal to be sold under a trade name, the trade name being taken from the seam and the seam derived its name from the town of Montevallo. During the early period of mining there were no railroad connections at Aldrich. The company delivered its coal by its own transportation system to a location at or near what is now Wilton, and the coal was billed from the Montevallo railroad agency. This was during the time the Rome, Selma, and Dalton served Montevallo, and long before the existence of the Southern Railway in this district.

Montevallo coal was extensively used during the Civil War period in the Government Navy Yard at Selma, and also by the Shelby Iron works plant for the production of cannon balls. Miners and other workmen in the Montevallo mine were exempt from war service duty on account of the importance of coal to the Confederate government.

It is also interesting to note that the first modern steam hoisting engine and steam pump used in the South were used in the Montevallo mine.

The quality of this wonderful coal, known as Montevallo, is the same today as it was in 1856 when the first coal was mined by rail. The quality of the coal has been so outstanding that on one occasion a prominent gentleman visited Alabama from Boston and he liked the coal so well that for several years he had a quantity shipped to Boston for his use. This coal was shipped to Mobile by rail and transported by boat from there to Boston.

The Montevallo Coal Mining Company has a modern, well constructed village, with up-to-date facilities for the employees. The company is always desirous of looking after the comfort of its employees to the full extent of its ability.

The officers of the Montevallo Coal Mining Company are D. A. Thomas, president and treasurer; W. H. Sadler, Jr., vice-president; and H. W. Stokes, secretary. Mr. Thomas has spent his entire life around the coal mines, his father, the late Peter B. Thomas, was one of the pioneer coal operators in this state, having come from Pennsylvania to Alabama during the late '70's.

PHOSPHATE OFFERED ALABAMA FARMERS

Auburn, Ala. — New life can be given to Alabama's farm land through applications of triple superphosphate and limestone being offered as grants-of-aid under the agricultural conservation program, according to A. W. Jones, state AAA administrative officer.

"Triple superphosphate, supplying the vital element of phosphorus to the soil, and limestone, a neutralizing agent for acid soil, can be obtained without an immediate outlay of cash," he said. "The materials can be obtained when needed and deductions for this assistance will be made from the conservation payment made to the farm under the 1940 program."

Usually a group of farmers join together and order superphosphate and limestone by carload lots. The minimum amount that can be received by carload is 20 tons.

Miss Jane Fowler Wed to Rux Carter

Columbiana, Ala. — The marriage of Miss Jane Fowler, Columbiana, to Rux Carter, Birmingham, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Fowler, Saturday afternoon, February 17.

As the guests assembled Madge Ferrell, pianist, and Bob Mills, baritone, of Gadsden, gave a program of nuptial music. Conrad Fowler, brother of the bride, and Miss Sarah Nell Carter, the bridegroom's sister, lighted tall white tapers before an altar of woodwardia fern and ivy.

Mrs. Harris Milton Gordon, wearing rose taffeta with a corsage of roses, attended the bride as matron of honor. Jack Frye, Birmingham, was best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore ivory faille taffeta with gardenias in her hair. Her flowers were a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The Rev. Thad H. Ferrell, Acmar, read the double-ring ceremony.

Immediately after the ceremony, the guests were entertained with a reception. Mrs. Inez Bird, Mrs. Howard Whittaker, Mrs. N. Y. Horn, Miss Jeanette Niven, and Mrs. J. W. Letson assisted in serving.

After a short motor trip, Mr. and Mrs. Carter are at home in Birmingham, where Mr. Carter is in business.

To the People of the Sixth Congressional District:

I hereby announce my candidacy for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary

This announcement has been delayed thus far, due to the great importance and pressing nature of the work of the Code Committee, of which I am a member. The work of this committee in the codification of the laws of Alabama, has progressed to such a point that I now feel justified in undertaking my campaign for Congress, and I have requested and obtained a leave of absence without pay for the duration of the campaign.

I expect to wage an active, aggressive campaign, discussing fully with the people the issues, needs, and problems of the district.

It is my earnest hope to avoid all personalities and petty bickerings; and I shall endeavor at all times to conduct my campaign upon a high level in keeping with the importance and dignity of the office which I seek.

My campaign will be based upon a proven record and capacity for public service, demonstrated ability, training, and knowledge of the pressing needs and problems of the district. I pledge my whole-hearted untiring efforts in the support of the principles and policies of government which make secure the rights and privileges of all the people and which will best promote their prosperity and permanent welfare.

Your vote and support will be gratefully appreciated.

Confident of success, and with full faith in the people of my district, I submit my candidacy to you.

THE OLD HOBSON - BANKHEAD DISTRICT

The Sixth District is the dark and bloody ground of the Alabama political arena. This year we shall witness a fight to the finish between the incumbent, Representative Pete Jarman, and his two challengers, Emmett Hildreth, of Greene County, and Billy Partlow, of Tuscaloosa, son of The Partlow. Thus the Sixth District may once more become something of a shambles.—Montgomery Advertiser.

Mrs. Travers died in California February 16, cause unknown, as she was found dead in bed in her hotel apartment.

FEDERAL FUNDS INCREASE PUBLIC WORKS IN ALABAMA

Birmingham, Ala. — A total of $28,603,587 of federal funds was expended in Alabama on the construction or improvement of public property during the past 1939 fiscal year. This statement was made today by George L. Davis, state director for the Office of Government Reports.

Declaring these buildings and improvements will be permanent additions to the wealth of the state, Mr. Davis said that all such federal expenditures since 1933 totaled $111,110,150.

Construction work has been supervised by seven federal agencies, of which only the Public Roads Administration, the Public Buildings Administration, and the Corps of Engineers were in existence prior to 1933. Expenditures of these federal agencies, for construction or improvement of public property, during the fiscal year ended last June 30, follow:

Public Roads Administration, $5,743,612; Public Buildings Administration, $257,875; Corps of Engineers, $3,269,370; Public Works Administration, $7,871,751; Work Projects Administration, $9,611,300; United States Housing Authority, $759,00; Rural Electrification Administration, $1,090,679; Total (1939) $28,603,587.

Butter is one of our very best foods. Kids need it, grown-ups need it—old people need it. It contains gestible form and at a low price gestilbe form and at a low price compared with the drugs that take its place.

Through its payments, AAA is emphasizing conservation, not only of soil, but of human resources. Payment will be made on pastures for more livestock, on gardens for more vegetables, and on forestry for a return of timber production in Alabama.

Counties Named For AAA Program

Auburn, Ala.—Extension of commercial peanut counties and the addition of commercial potato and vegetable counties under the 1940 Triple-A farm program was announced here today by A. W. Jones, state administrative officer. Under the program there will be two commercial potato counties, seven commercial vegetable counties and 30 commercial peanut counties, he said.

Jones says any farmer who produces more than three acres of vegetables for market will be given an allotment and allowed to produce all of the vegetables possible on that acreage without penalty. Over planting of allotment will draw penalties, however. Any farmer producing less than three acres will not be given an allotment, and therefore, will not be subject to penalty, he said. Commercial vegetable counties are Baldwin, Blount, Cullman, Houston, Jefferson, Mobile, and St. Clair. Commercial potato counties are Baldwin and Escambia.

Argentinita, Spain's most famous woman dancer, and her company, will appear in Palmer Auditorium at 8:15 p.m., March 8, at the fifth number in the current Concert and Lecture Series at the college. Carlos Montoya, one of the world's foremost artists with the guitar, is a member of the Argentinita company.

The Triple-A officer said provisions of the AAA program which state that any county which produces more than 300 acres of peanuts for market will be classified as a commercial peanut county, has necessitated the extension of commercial peanut counties from 17 to 30. Allotments will be given to all farmers producing market peanuts in each of the 30 counties.

Counties now listed as commercial peanut counties are as follows: Autauga, Barbour, Bullock, Butler, Chambers, Chilton, Clarke, Coffee, Conecuh, Covington, Crenshaw, Dallas, Dale, Elmore, Escambia, Geneva, Hale, Henry, Houston, Lee, Lowndes, Macon, Marengo, Monroe, Montgomery, Perry, Pike, Russell, Sumter, and Wilcox.

Speed-Up Asked In Finnish Relief Fund Campaign

The state and national headquarters of the Finnish Relief Fund, Inc., are urging that we speed up the campaign for funds, as the situation steadily grows worse in Finland. The women, children, aged and infirm are facing untold suffering, and even starvation. The most that we can do for them is not enough, and the need grows more urgent daily. If you have not made your contribution to this fund, please do so at once.

Shelby County has been asked to give $300. That is a very small amount and we ought to give much more. Mr. Lokey, the county chairman, has been assured by the local chairman that the people of Montevallo will do their part and more. They always respond to appeals of this kind. So far gifts from eight people have been received by the local chairman or deposited to the fund at the bank. Please leave your contribution with Dr. Pearson or Mr. Wyatt, or deposit it with the bank at your earliest convenience.

Agent Names Best Cotton And Corn Varieties To Use

The yields of both cotton and corn are too low in Shelby County. These yields can be increased by building the land, using the right kind and amount of fertilizer, with the leading varieties for this section.

The Alabama Experiment Station tests all well known varieties of cotton and corn to determine which will give the best yields.

For this section, the leading cotton varieties in yield, staple length and lint percentage are: DPL-11A, Stoneville 5A, and Cook 144. DPL-11A is most commonly grown in Shelby County and is easier to keep pure by having gin days.

Farmers should plant enough seed direct from the breeder to make at least one bale of seed for home use so the seed may be kept pure.

The leading corn varieties for this section are Mosby, Lochers Yellow, Douthitt, Brooks Prolific, and Indian Chief. — A. A. Lauderdale, County Agent.

Program Is Given For Band Concert

University, Ala.—Members of the University of Alabama's "Million Dollar Band" have been holding intensive practice sessions during the past two weeks preparatory to their first concert of the season to be staged Saturday night at Palmer Auditorium under the auspices of the Montevallo High School Band.

Special numbers which will be featured in the program are announced today by Director Carleton K. Butler as follows: Gloria, March, by Losey; Rosamunde Overture, Schubert; Symphony in C Minor, Williams; Thoughts of Love (Valse de Concert), Pryor, James Broadus, trombone soloist; Manhattan Serenade, Alter; Bravada, Curzon; Suite from the Opera, "The Bartered Bride"—Smetana Overture, Village Scene, Love Duet and Chorus, Polka, Sextet, Dance of the Comedians; Simonetta, Serenade, Curzon; Park Avenue Fantasy, Malneck and Signorelli; Liebestraum, Nocturne, Liszt; The World is Waiting for the Sunrise, Alford.

The concert will start at 8 o'clock and admission prices will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for high school students.

NEEDLEWORK INCREASES INCOME OF CLUB WOMAN

Mrs. E. A. Turner, Jr., president of the Calcasieu Home Demonstration Club, is using her ability to do fine needle work as a means of supplementing the family income, states Marian Cotney, Home Agent. During the past few months Mrs. Turner has received a total of $153.05 for her work. To B. Altman and Co., New York, she has sold $20.00 worth of ladies' and men's handkerchiefs; to W. H. Saller, Louisville, Ky., handkerchief cases and sachets, $72.50; and she has received $60.55 from local sales of luncheon sets, handkerchiefs, infant clothes, aprons, glass towels, clothes pin aprons, embroidered collars and cuffs, pillow cases, vanity sets and baby pillows.

Pierson Appointed To Alumni Group

Dr. Lorraine Pierson, Montevallo, today was appointed a member of the national committee of the Alumni Foundation of the University of Chicago and chairman of the Foundation's Montevallo committee.

Appointment of Miss Pierson by Clifton M. Utley, vice-chairman of the Foundation, marks the opening of a series of activities by Montevallo alumni looking to participation in the fiftieth anniversary celebration of the university in 1941. First objective of the Foundation is an alumni gift to be presented at the anniversary celebration.

Miss Pierson will shortly appoint other members of her committee from the ranks of Chicago alumni in Montevallo.

Graduate of the University of Chicago in 1922 with a Master of Arts degree, Miss Pierson is now head of the foreign language department at Alabama College. She has served as chairman of the French division of the South Atlantic Modern Language Association and as a member of the executive board of that body.

A national organization with 350 local committees enlisting the support of leading alumni, the Foundation has been organized to bring alumni into closer association with the university. For the first time in its history, the university now has an alumni body covering the normal span of life. There are approximately 46,000 living alumni.

The anniversary gift will be used in offsetting the continued decline in rate of return on endowment. This decline was described by President Robert M. Hutchins in his recent annual report as "the most important educational event of the past year."

The University of Chicago, a privately endowed institution, receives no tax fund support. Though its endowment has increased slightly since 1929, the rate of return has decreased 40 per cent. The alumni gift will be important in enabling the university to maintain the position of leadership it has achieved in its first half century.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the Stockholders of Alabama Coaches Company, a corporation, will be held in the law office of L. H. Ellis, at Columbiana, Alabama, at ten o'clock a.m. on Saturday, the 23rd day of March, 1940. The purpose of the Stockholders' meeting is to elect Directors for the ensuing year, the election of officers of said corporation and such other business as may come before said meeting.

This the 12th day of February, 1940.

GIRL SCOUTS

Senior Girl Scout Members Increase

An increase of about one hundred per cent in Senior Girl Scout membership has just been announced at Girl Scout headquarters in New York City.

Senior Girl Scouts do not follow a definite program as do the younger girls. "We wish we could do the things we want to do with our own friends," they said. "We'd like to do some of the things our teachers say we don't have time for in school—learn about jobs and careers, learn how to get along better with our own families, and make new friends. We want to accomplish things and have fun."

One group of girls made a collection of local rocks and minerals which they labeled and classified. Still another group organized a conference on teen-age problems. Others helped blind friends by transcribing stories into Braille. Forums on types of jobs open to women and ways of acquiring them are a popular Senior Girl Scout activity. — National Girl Scout News.

Leaders Have Meeting

The Girl Scout leaders met at the Little House Monday evening, February 26. This was the second in a series of courses by Miss Saylor.

Those present were Misses Saylor, Reasoner, Eastman, Lulu Palmer, Frances Ribble, Annie Boyd Parker, Jane Allen, Mesdames Vaughan,

Wills, Appleton, and Hood. The next meeting will be held on the evening of March 11.

Senior Troop

The Senior Troop of the Montevallo Girl Scouts met Tuesday, February 20, at the Little House. Their new leader, Mrs. Jackson, was absent, but Mrs. Appleton met with them in her place.

The purpose of the meeting was to wash the kitchen curtains and windows. The girls did this and enjoyed hot chocolate and cookies.

Those present were Evelyn Ward, Jackie Woolley, Carolyn Ray, Billie Mitchell, Pat Weems and Frances Nybeck.

The girls met Thursday, February 15, at Mrs. Jackson's for an informal planning meeting.

Troop Two

The Girl Scouts of Troop 2 held their weekly meeting at the Little House Monday afternoon.

Miss Ribble read the requirements for the folk dancing badge aloud and the girls discussed them.

Mary Jean Kennerly's patrol put on a short skit in which they stressed the importance of Scouting for girls. They served refreshments afterwards.

Miss Saylor taught the girls two new dances in connection with the folk dancing badge.

Miss Palmer, captain, Miss Ribble and Miss Parks, assistants, Alice Ray Clemmons, Margaret Bickler, Sara Henry Reynolds, Tootsie Clayton, Peggy Davis, Virginia Barnes, Frances Woods, Mary Jean Kennerly, Sara Barr, Julia Rogan, Ann

Davis, and Dama Wills were present at the meeting.

Brownies

The Brownies met at the Scout house February 21. After the flag ceremony, Miss Saylor entertained us while Mrs. Hood and Mrs. Towery made some divinity fudge and chocolate fudge. It certainly was delicious. We all enjoyed it very much.

BAPTIST CHURCH

The text for the Sunday morning sermon is John 1:14 — "The Word Became Flesh." This is the first of a series of three sermons on "The Significance of Jesus," in which the pastor will discuss the Incarnation, the death and the Resurrection of Jesus. At the Sunday evening service he will speak on "Luke, the Beloved Physician."

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, vice-president of the National Council of Boy Scouts of America, continues the example set by his father, the late president, one of Scouting's truest friends.

The farm program has a lot of different parts, but it all boils down to a program for a better life for people on the farm.

No Need to Wait for a Ship to Come In For You To Electrify Your Home

RECENTLY a customer said to one of our representatives, "When my ship comes in, I'm going to completely electrify my home."

"Why wait for a ship to come in?" he was asked.

"I'll have to—I earn only a moderate income, and much as I'd like to electrify our home now so my wife would have it easier, I'm afraid I can't. Your rates are cheap enough, but I can't buy the necessary electrical equipment."

It seems that this customer didn't know of the surprisingly moderate prices at which electrical home equipment can be purchased; and that a plan worked out especially for persons of moderate income, makes it possible for them to electrify now. Under this plan they can pay for their electrical equipment over a period of years.

This plan has made it possible for homes in all walks of life to be electrified, and for families living in them to enjoy all the advantages of complete electrification—economy, added comfort and convenience, cleanliness, more time for relaxation.

There's no need to wait for a ship to come in for you to electrify your home. Inquire soon at one of our stores, or that of an electrical merchant, and learn how you, too, can begin enjoying the advantages of complete electrification now.

To help our customers plan their use of electric service to their best advantage, and economically, we have a staff of home economists, home and commercial lighting specialists, and rural electric service engineers. There is no charge for their services, which are also available to architects and builders. Inquire at our nearest office.

Hildreth

famous university in Paris, and later in 1921 achieved his LL.B. from the School of Law at the University of Alabama.

Immediately after graduation he entered the practice of law at Eutaw, where he has resided since that time. He has served two 2-year terms as mayor of Eutaw, has been a school trustee for many years and was commander of the Lewis-Morrow Post of the American Legion in Eutaw.

He is a steward of the Eutaw Methodist Church where he has taught the largest Sunday School class in Greene County for 20 years. He is a member of the Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity, a Mason, and former lieutenant-governor of the Alabama Kiwanis District. His wife is the former Miss Emory Peebles of Aliceville. The Hildreths have two children, Allison and Emmett, Jr.

Leader in Legislature

Senator Hildreth has been a leading figure in three state administrations, serving in the Senate during the governorships of William W. Brandon, B. M. Miller, and Frank M. Dixon. In 1923 he was a member of the Code Committee and again in 1939 he was named to that joint committee which is now completing a far-reaching re-codification of Alabama's statutes.

His legislative career has been characterized by his leadership of many important measures, and service on powerful committees of the Senate, including finance and taxation, judiciary, constitution and constitutional amendments, rules, and others.

In Democratic Party affairs he has served two terms of four years each on the State Democratic Executive Committee, and in 1932 he was a delegate from the Sixth District to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago.

More than 3,000 lives and property damage of approximately $95,000,000 was the toll of farm fires in the United States last year. Volunteer firefighting units in many communities have lowered losses from fire considerably.

WOMEN'S SOCIETY FOR CHRISTIAN SERVICE

The Women's Society for Christian Service met Monday afternoon in the ladies' parlor of the Methodist Church for its regular monthly business meeting.

Mrs. O. B. Cooper was devotional leader for the afternoon, giving as her subject, "Thoughts on Fellowship with Our Master."

Following her inspiring message the group sang, "O, Master, Let Me Walk With Thee," after which Mrs. Cooper led in prayer.

Mrs. J. L. Appleton and Mrs. J. H. Henning sang "In the Garden," a song familiar to everyone, which beautifully expresses fellowship with God.

Mrs. J. P. Kelly, president, presided over the business meeting which followed the devotional, during which time reports were given and old and new business was discussed. At the conclusion of the business meeting, the 26 members present were dismissed with the watchword.

Miss Gera Holland of Sipsey visited her sister, Mrs. W. D. Jackson, last week end.

Jarman

where he led his state delegation in parade.

Stepping Stones to Congress

It was this eventful, impressive, and useful public career that marked Pete Jarman for service in the Congress of the United States, to which he was overwhelmingly elected by the people of the Sixth District in 1936 and again in 1938. Now, as he approaches his third term he is backed by a record in Congress that is even more illustrious than his state career which carried him to the national capitol in the first place. His outstanding and unrivaled record in Congress, his legions of friends feel sure, will bring him another overwhelming victory in the present campaign.

A Remarkable Record

A brief review of his most impressive record in Congress is pertinent to this time when others are asking to be considered to take his place.

Eight days after taking the oath of office he was named chairman of the House committee on Memorials. It is altogether unusual for a new Congressman to be made chairman of a committee in his first term. Exceptional ability proved by an outstanding public career prior to going to Congress brought him this distinct honor.

In his second term he was made chairman of the much more important House committee on Printing. At the same time he was elected a member of the major committee on Foreign Affairs. When he was made chairman of the committee on Printing his office was moved to the main Capitol building where only 13 of the most prominent members of Congress have offices. The other 12 of this number have served an average of over 20 years to gain a place of such distinction as has come to Mr. Jarman in his second term. Also, he is now serving as vice chairman of the joint committee of the House and Senate on Printing.

His record has thus far marked him as the only Congressman who has been made chairman of a committee in his first term; the only Congressman who, in his second term, resigned the chairmanship of one committee to accept the chairmanship of a more important one; the only Congressman who, in his second term has been made vice chairman of a joint committee of the House and Senate.

In view of these facts, it is obvious that Pete Jarman has attained a place of recognition, ability and influence in Congress that does not ordinarily come to new members, and, in fact, is equaled by few who serve a long time.

It is therefore, easily conceivable that the people of the Sixth District will not be hasty to put aside a man of such record and start over with a new man who would have to go through the initiation period.

It is pointed out by Jarman's friends as certain, by the law of averages, that we would not get another Congressman who could at once gain the place of useful service that is his now. We have had Congressmen who never did what Jarman has done, even in their first, second or tenth terms.

Jarman reminds his constituents that he has not been a speech-making, law-passing Congressman. He did not try to "take charge" when he got to Washington, and advertise himself. He went there to work—on his past record for ability to work and to serve. He felt that the leaders in Congress would find out his ability and his fitness in due time, and they did. When they called on him to work, he was prepared by experience and full of vim to buckle down to the tasks assigned him.

Naturally, Congressman Jarman feels an humble pride in his record and we think he correctly assumes that all unbiased citizens of his district will share that pride. We agree with him that our district can ill afford to lose the place of seniority and the prestige it enjoys from the assignments which have been given him of duties to perform in the processes of our national government.

We are reminded that if we elect another man to Congress, we will not be electing him to take Pete's place. No new man can automatically do that. A new man would go to Congress and make his own place and all that Pete has done would not help him one bit. The places of influence that Pete now holds

Funeral Services Are Held For Rev. John A. May

Death cast its shadow over Montevallo last Thursday afternoon, when it removed from our midst one of our oldest and most beloved citizens, the Rev. John Albert May, who passed quietly and peacefully into the beyond at 3 o'clock following an illness of several weeks.

A graduate of Vanderbilt, the possessor of a brilliant mind, and a life of 78 years dedicated to his Master, he was author of several religious books and had served for many years as a minister of the Gospel, both as pastor and as conference evangelist of the Methodist Church, during which time he was instrumental in bringing many souls to the Christ he so diligently served.

The late years of his life were spent here in Montevallo, and even though ill health prevented him from active ministry, he never failed to impress one with his close companionship with God, with his keen interest in the church he served so faithfully, and the importance of living a Christian life.

One could not help but wonder as he looked upon his face faintly smiling in death, if he had not heard, "Ye have been faithful over many things, enter thou into the joys of thy Lord." Truly his great soul had found rest and peace, which shone so beautifully on his face, even in death.

Funeral services were held in the Methodist Church at 1:30 Friday afternoon, The Rev. J. M. Shores officiating, assisted by Dr. Fred B. Pearson of the Baptist Church, and Rev. John B. Rice, a former pastor of the local Methodist Church. Miss Edith Dees, of Alabama College sang "When They Ring Those Golden Bells for You and Me."

The body was laid to rest in beautiful Oak Hill in Birmingham, Walton of Columbiana in charge.

The active pallbearers were William McConaughy, Pete Givhan, Eddie Mahaffey, Fehlan Brown, Johnnie Hardy, and Irvin Jones-Williams. Honorary pallbearers were Dr. T. H. Napier, Mr. George Morgan, Mr. C. H. Mahaffey, Mr. Stanley Mahan, Mr. E. D. Mulkey, and Mr. H. T. Davis.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. John A. May, three sons, Sam, of Gadsden, John, of Birmingham, and Eugene, of Albany, Miss.; four daughters, Mrs. Vernon Noe, Birmingham, Mrs. Lucy Proctor, Scottsboro, Mrs. Helen Clayton, Montevallo, and Miss Josephine May; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Stobert, Mrs. Fredora Allen, Mrs. P. W. Turner, all of Birmingham; three brothers, Dr. F. H. May, and H. G. May, Birmingham; and Col. L. A. May, New York.

would go to some man who is now in Congress and who held his seniority by being re-elected.

Mr. Jarman regrets that he has not had more opportunity to devote to his favorite pastime—seeing his friends in the District. He has been in Congress 38 months, of which time Congress has been in actual session 29 months; and he has had important duties upon his shoulders since he first took the oath of office.

Congress will be in session many months yet. He will have to stay in Washington to attend to the important business that is entrusted to him. He will not have much time to devote to campaigning.

An old Jarman supporter, discussing the campaign down on the street the other day made this significant statement:

"I guess the other candidates will be around to see me. When they come, I am going to be nice to them, of course. But I am going to remember that Pete is in Washington working hard and making a good job of his job—doing what we sent him up there to do—and I expect it will not be hard for the other fellows to see that I am still for Pete. But I don't care if they do. I am for him because I think he deserves it, and I believe the Sixth District would be making a big mistake to turn him down, notwithstanding the other fine men who would like to take a try at the job. I am satisfied with Pete."

Mr. Bob Anderson of Auburn spent the week end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Anderson.
